1. BAŞKENT UNIVERSITY

Başkent University was established to address the increasing demand for higher education, to set an example with a more modern educational system, which coincided with the law no. 515 dated September 14, 1993, published in the Official Gazette on 13 January 1994, which was based on the decree law no. 515 dated September 14, 1993. The vision and insight of Prof. Dr. Mehmet Haberal, the founder and Honorary President of the university, paved the way for the establishment of the University. The Turkish Organ Transplantation and Burn Treatment Foundation (1980), the Dialysis Center (1982), the first hospital built in 1985 and the Haberal Education Foundation (1986) are all institutions that contributed to the process.

In addition to the Faculty of Medicine (Medical Specialization Education), Nursing Junior College and Biomedical Devices Technology Vocational Junior College in Bahçelievler, Ankara, the construction of Başkent University in Bağlıca Campus began and completed by the 1995-1996 academic year.

During 1998-1999 academic year, an Industrial Engineering graduate program and an Electrical and Electronics Engineering doctoral program opened in the Institute of Science and Engineering, which were the first two graduate education programs offered by the university. Additionally, at the end of the same academic year, Ayşeabla College located in Ankara began to operate under the Başkent University umbrella. Thus, all education levels, from nursery school to postgraduate studies, were carefully designed and put into action for all stakeholders.

Başkent University is one of the best and most preferred foundation universities in Turkey. It is comprised of 11 faculties, 1 state conservatory, 7 institutes, 7 vocational schools and 1 academy. As of the 2018-2019 academic year, the university embraces 14,387 students, 32,464 alumni, 1,480 faculty and 8,730 support and administrative staff.

In 1997, Başkent University became the first foundation institute of higher education in Turkey to be certified by. During the 2017-2018 academic year, the university underwent the internal and external audits necessary to be certified by the Turkish Institution for Standardization (TSE). As of March 2018, Başkent University had acclaimed of the TS EN ISO 9001:2015 certification standard. Moreover, it is worth highlighting several other examples of recognition awarded to the university including:

- Golden Quality Award New York 2013 International Quality Summit
- Platinum Quality Award Paris 2015 International Quality Summit
- Diamond Quality Award and Technology Award Frankfurt 2016 International Quality Summit

- Within the scope of the Academic Program Restructuring Studies (Bologna Process), the university, which carries the label of Diploma Attachment Label and European Credit Transfer System (ECTS) Label, was awarded a prize by NMEAB (National Medical Education Accreditation Board) enabling the reaccreditation of Faculty of Medicine in 2017
- JACIE reaccreditation (Joint Accreditation Committee ISCT-EBMT) of Adana Adult Stem Cell Transplantation and Cellular Treatment Center
- Gynaecologic Oncology Department and Advanced Stage Over Surgery Center was accredited by ESGO (European Society of Gynaecological Oncology) and EUR-ACE Label
- EEPEAA (Engineering Education Programs Evaluation and Accreditation Association) accreditation was given to the Faculty of Engineering

Başkent University provides education and health services to many different regions of the country in addition to its Bağlıca Campus in Ankara. These services are offered in Ankara, Adana and Konya, Alanya, İskenderun, İstanbul, İzmir, Sakarya, Şanlıurfa, Tokat, Yalova and Zonguldak. Physicians, nurses and paramedics working for the university attend scientific and academic meetings, sharing their knowledge and experience with the world.

Başkent University, celebrating its 25th anniversary, has always taken on the role of leader and pioneer. This is valid not only for the field of science but also for cultural and social studies. Başkent University is sensitive towards changing social needs hence raises about issues such as women's and disadvantaged groups' rights such as the disabled. It is the university's goal that its graduates are not only successful but also socially responsible professionals.

The university takes care to support cultural and historical endeavours. To exemplify, the Abdurrahim Tuncak Museum of Atatürk's House located on Bağlıca Campus preserves national memory; and the Orchestra Academic Başkent, a successful private chamber orchestra was founded by Ankara's first and only permanent professional artists on October 29, 2003. Furthermore, the Letoon and Caunus archaeological sites demonstrates the university's efforts to protect the archaeological history of Turkey by contributing to the work to keep them alive.

With its Radio, Television, Broadcasting, Communications and Advertisement Corp. and monthly magazine "Bütün Dünya"(Eng. the Whole World), Başkent University's media institutions provide accurate and reliable news and information. The university also publishes "Başkent University Bulletin" disseminates news about university to a wider audience and the "Başkentliyiz" magazine for the alumni. With its 12,500 m² area and 1,200 person seating capacity, the university library, which opened in 2014, is the biggest university library in Turkey.

The medium of instruction is mostly Turkish and 30% English. However, there are programs whose medium of instruction is 100% English. Such programs include: English Language Teaching, American Culture and Literature, Translation and Interpretation, Business Management, Economics, Political Science, Sociology, Medicine, Dentistry and Molecular Biology and Genetics.

1.1. Mission, Vision and Values

The mission of Başkent University is to nurture individuals who believe scientific objectivity, who have a sense of national consciousness, who are inquisitive, productive, intelligent and conscientious, who possess analytical and critical skills, who have respect for universal law, who are humanists and environmentalists, creative and innovative and who are loyal to Atatürk. Therefore, it is vital for Başkent University to promote science, education, research and development in order to support Turkish people socioeconomically, technologically and culturally, to improve human health and to help develop human and environmental rights.

The vision of the university is to be a home for advanced and internationally appreciated academics as well as educational and health services. The established values of Başkent University are: Reason, Science, Scientific Productivity, Corporate Development and Institutional Identity, Work Discipline, Community Service, Objectivity, Reaching the Universal from the National, Continuous Improvement, Cooperation with Stakeholders, Team Spirit, Creativity and Innovation. To actualize the mission of Başkent University in the most effective and desired way, three strategic action areas have been defined:

- Scientific production
- Making learning perfect
- Responding to the society's needs

2. SCHOOL OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES (BU-SFL)

From its establishment until 18 February 2015, the School of Foreign Languages was called the Foreign Languages Department. Each semester serving with nearly 160 language instructors, the BU-SFL is one of the largest foreign language schools in Turkey.

The BU-SFL aims to provide Başkent University students with the opportunity to learn foreign languages, particularly English, which are commonly used in the international arena. Its educational programs offer various courses to help them meet the language requirements necessary for their academic and social lives via student-centered methods and techniques.

2.1. Mission, Vision, and Values

Our mission is:

- to provide our students, who are our primary concern, with high quality foreign language education, which takes into account their academic and social needs
- to encourage our students to become responsible and conscientious learners, helping them manage and monitor their own learning processes
- to direct our teaching and learning activities towards fulfilling our vision by creating a team-focused work environment
- to make sure that our teaching staff adopts a sense of quality by means of efficient administrative processes
- to be aware of the expectations of our internal and external stakeholders and create opportunities to cooperate them

Our vision is to be a leading and exemplary foreign language education institution that creates a learning environment at an international level that is in the pursuit of truth, progress, novelty and being the best within the scope of our university's general mission, vision and strategic aims.

The values we have adopted reflect the values of our university:

4. TEACHING STAFF

4.1. Job Description

The BU-SFL instructors are mainly responsible for providing quality language instruction, preparing lessons, developing materials, assessing student performance, and improving continuously their professional skills and abilities. They also have responsibilities in curriculum development, textbook selection and administrative activities.

The BU-SFL instructors have a variety of qualifications. In addition to countless certificates, the majority of instructors have an MA degree, and some are getting their PhD degrees in various disciplines. Having a post-graduate degree is encouraged by the BU-SFL management; however, the priority of the instructors should be placed on their work responsibilities.

The duties of the Instructor involve:

- implementing the curriculum and teaching-learning program as planned
- taking learners' immediate and longer term needs into account during instructional activities
- designing/planning, preparing i.e. selecting, adapting, producing, redesigning materials when and if necessary and teaching lessons bearing in mind the very learner profile.
- assisting learners in developing an understanding of the aims, principles and norms of the School and University.
- closely monitoring and checking student performance.
- being available for individual students during office hours that are determined at the beginning of a new course.
- attending sessions organized by TTDU regularly for professional/academic development, which also include orientation/induction programs specifically targeting newly recruited instructors.
- providing feedback on the teaching and learning practices like the implementation of the curriculum, exams, using the right tools, instruments and channels in order to contribute to quality enhancement.
- collaborating and cooperating with partners and colleagues through exchanging ideas, experiences and by taking part in any relevant work such as peer observation and team teaching in that sense.
- welcoming TTDU members or BU-SFL management for in-class observation purposes.
- guiding students to enable them to reach their full potential for intellectual growth.

4.2. Professional Attitudes and Behaviors

The BU-SFL's expectations from the instructors are:

- ✓ to develop and maintain positive and professional relationships with supervisors, colleagues, students, and the wider community
- ✓ to demonstrate non-defensive receptivity to feedback and suggestions
- ✓ to act with honesty, integrity, openness and fairness in all aspects of their work
- ✓ to be sensitive to the need for confidentiality and discretion where appropriate
- ✓ to demonstrate respect for cultural values and diversity
- ✓ to improve their teaching practice by engaging with student progress, learning theory, curriculum development, professional development activities, and research
- ✓ to work within the framework of relevant legislation, regulations and policies

4.3. Working Hours and Leaves of Absence

Legal working hours of full-time instructors are defined by the Rectorate aligned with the related rules of Labour Law. BU-SFL management has the responsibility of ensuring that the instructors obey the working hours, being 9.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m. with a break of one hour, from Monday to Friday. Instructors may also be assigned exam invigilation duties on weekends. Part-time teaching staff are employed for the full semester to teach a prescribed number of hours each week, so their working hours are flexible. However, they are obliged to attend meetings, in-house training sessions, and take part in exam invigilation duties.

Full-time teaching staff should also schedule at least two office hours to meet with students. During office hours, students can ask for extra help with the course content or seek clarification of materials presented in class. Office hours should be informed of students in order to have them feel supported and cared.

Teaching loads of the instructors are planned by the related unit administration considering their coordinating duties or graduate studies, if any. Instructors can also be given other work-related tasks assigned by the Rectorate or the BU-SFL management, such as doing translation, designing a course, writing test items or delivering a seminar presentation.

Each class lasts 50 minutes, with a 10-minute break. Instructors are required to start and end classes on time. They cannot cancel a class or change its schedule or location without the consent of the related Unit Head. In case of a health problem, they should submit their medical report to the BU-SFL Directorate and inform the related Unit Head immediately so that their classes can be rescheduled or substituted by another instructor. Instructors can also request a leave of absence due to conference attendance, and personal or family related reasons. The related Unit Head and the Directorate give due consideration regarding the request prior to approving or denying it. In case of repeated short term or unauthorized absence, the BU-SFL reserves the right to consider taking legal action (please see Recruitment Policy section for further details).

4.4. Record Keeping and YBS Entries

Each instructor is given a user name and a password by Başkent University Information Processing Center to login the YBS portal (<https://www.baskent.edu.tr/tr/akademik>). Due to confidentiality reasons, please do not share your password with anyone.

The YBS has sub-sections, one of which is for teaching staff (Akademisyen Uygulaması -AU) to enter data related to student attendance, exam scores or end-of-semester grades. Instructors are obliged to enter the attendance data for each student in a particular teaching session into the AU on a weekly basis. After entering attendance the data into the AU system, instructors (Academic English Unit) are required to leave their class attendance list to the designated room at the end of their teaching.

Students who are not able to attend a lesson but given a formal permission by his/her faculty should be marked “permitted”. On the other hand, they cannot be marked as absent due to their unacceptable behavior or lack of course obligations. Instructors also need to fill in the report cards with exam scores of students and then enter the data into the AU system.

Since the classes in the English Preparatory Unit are shared by two or more instructors, record-keeping responsibilities are taken on equally by the partner instructors. Each partner should leave the class folder to the designated room at the end of their teaching for his/her partner(s) to pick it up later. They are required to share notes with their partner(s) on the class file telling the salient points covered/taught during class hours to ensure the execution of the day-to-day side of the syllabus, and at a macro level, to make sure nothing left out from the curriculum.

The YBS portal has also another sub-section called ABTA, an automated academic performance appraisal system. Into the ABTA full-time teaching staff should enter data regarding their academic and administrative activities performed in an academic year, such as teaching time completed, papers presented, books written, or responsibilities carried out in the BU-SFL functional units.

4.5. Assessment and Exams

Instructors are responsible for contributing to exam administration processes which include organizing the exam venues and groups of students, and assigning invigilators. In addition to invigilating the exam venues, they are required to mark exam papers objectively according to rubrics and answer keys provided during standardization meetings and approved by instructors who attend these meetings. After marking, they are required to take exam papers to the related classroom to give feedback to students at the specified time, assuring that students do not use their phones or do not make any changes to the exam material.

Instructors are also responsible for checking their e-mails and unit notice boards for any announcement of invigilation duties and exam procedures. It is of utmost importance that invigilators are well-informed and act in accordance with the procedures of each exam. Moreover, they are expected to maintain the anonymity and confidentiality of the TDU members and the Testing Office.

4.6. Protecting Assets and Resources

The BU-SFL assets should never be used for personal gain, and or for illegal activities. If instructors become aware of theft, misuse or waste of the school's property, they should immediately inform the related unit administration. Instructors are also required to treat teaching tools and materials given to them by the BU-SFL administrative units with utmost care. Should a tool or material be needed or needs repairing, instructors can contact the related unit's secretary. Supplies that are entrusted to the instructor should be returned to the related unit after use.

4.7. Dress Code

Since the choice of clothing is an important aspect of communication that can positively or negatively influence the teaching-learning environment, instructors are expected to dress professionally and choose a work outfit appropriate in an educational institution. To illustrate, having visible piercings and tattoos or wearing cut-off shorts and flip-flops are regarded as inappropriate dressing at Bařkent University.

4.8. Private Lessons

Tutoring at another institution not affiliated with Bařkent University, or offering private lessons to Bařkent University students are strictly forbidden.

4.9. Disciplinary Issues

In case of staff misconduct, such as a violation of work rules, regulations or policies of BU-SFL, disciplinary procedures defined in the Bařkent University's "Disciplinary Policy and Procedures" are followed. Please see the related document at <https://www.baskent.edu.tr/tr/icerik/mevzuat/baskent-universitesi-yonergeleri/87>.

5. ADMINISTRATION OF BU-SFL PROGRAMS

5.1. ENGLISH PREPARATORY UNIT

The mission of BU-SFL English Preparatory Unit (EPU) is to help our students equip themselves with the necessary language skills and knowledge that will help them in their future academic studies. The EPU also aims to help them develop learner autonomy so that they can become more productive and successful individuals in their academic lives and professional careers. In order to achieve its mission, the EPU seeks to provide our students with a constructive learning environment so that they can strengthen their English language knowledge and skills in a communicative and productive way, as well as taking more responsibility for their own learning.

The EPU aims to:

- equip students with necessary English language skills to overcome language-based challenges that they encounter throughout their undergraduate and graduate academic studies
- provide students with a highly elaborate and dynamic communicative skills-based program which harmoniously integrates grammatical, lexical and pragmatic aspects of the English language and four skills (namely; listening, speaking, reading, and writing)
- help students become fluent both in oral and written communication and become confident in making use of these language skills in future departmental courses in which the medium of instruction is English
- endow students with learner autonomy hence making them life-long learners
- improve the quality of our teaching and learning environments in line with latest developments in the field
- provide language education using the latest approaches, methods and technological tools

5.1.1. Programs Offered by the EPU

There are three programs offered by EPU. The curriculum of these programs is prepared according to the Global Scale of English (GSE), which is a global English language standard developed by Pearson PLC, allowing teachers to measure learner progress. GSE extends the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) by pinpointing on a scale from 10 to 90 what needs to be mastered for the four skills of speaking, listening, reading and writing within a CEFR level, using a more granular approach.

The program follows three tracks of study: Program 1, Program 2, and Program 3, each of which takes 16 weeks and includes 16 to 24 weekly teaching hours. Each class is shared by two or three instructors.

The weekly timetable for Programs 1 and 2 is as follows:

	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY
09:00-09:50
10:00-10:50
11:00-11:50
12:00-12:50
13:00-13:50
14:00-14:50
15:00-15:50
16:00-16:50

The weekly timetable for Program 3 is as follows:

09:00-09:50
10:00-10:50
11:00-11:50
12:00-12:50
13:00-13:50
14:00-14:50
15:00-15:50
16:00-16:50

Program 1 (Appendix 1)

Program 1 is a General English course designed for students who have a limited knowledge of the language. The objective of the course is to help learners to achieve an overall English language proficiency of A2+ level on GSE and enhance their knowledge of English. It enhances four skills – reading, listening, writing and speaking- through challenging tasks and thus enables students to become active and autonomous learners.

In fall semesters, Program 1 population is around 600, and they are distributed into approximately 25 sections. In spring semesters, Program 1 population is around 200, and they are distributed into approximately 10 sections. Program 1 is not offered during the Summer Term. Yet, EPU offers a Summer Course during the Summer Term which aims to cover mostly Program 2 objectives. Students who have failed in Program 1 at the end of spring semester may also register for the summer course. Within the framework of the learning outcomes and competences designed for the course the objectives are as follows:

- to learn basic grammatical structures
- to gain awareness of English language and English speaking cultures
- to understand on a basic level how English functions as a language

- to speak English well enough to describe, narrate, and ask/answer questions in the present and past time about basic topics
- to comprehend English with sufficient ability to grasp the main idea and supporting details in short conversations and reading texts
- to deduce meanings from context and to comprehend more complex readings
- to practise pronunciation and intonation of English
- to write informal /formal paragraphs and letters
- to learn vocabulary to such an extent as to communicate at a basic level in everyday life

Program 2

Program 2 is a General English course designed for students who have knowledge of the language at A2+ elementary level. The objective of the course is to help learners to achieve an overall English language proficiency of B1+ level on GSE and enhance their knowledge of English. It enhances four skills – reading, listening, writing and speaking- through challenging tasks and thus enables students to become active and autonomous learners so that learners can express themselves confidently in a real English – speaking environment.

In fall semesters, Program 2 population is around 400, and they are distributed into approximately 15 sections. In spring semesters, Program 2 population is around 500, and they are distributed into approximately 22 sections. EPU offers a Summer Course during the Summer Term which aims to cover mostly Program 2 objectives. Students who have failed in Program 2 at the end of spring semester may also register for the summer course. Within the framework of the learning outcomes and competences designed for the course, the objectives are as follows:

- to gain awareness of English language and English speaking cultures
- to cope flexibly with problems in everyday life (e.g. problems related to travelling on public transport, enrolling in a course, making travel arrangements)
- to keep a conversation going and/or to enter unprepared into a conversation
- to read and respond to various texts
- to deduce meanings from context and comprehend complex texts
- to produce connected texts on topics which are familiar or of personal interest
- to expand their knowledge of vocabulary for comprehension and production
- to link grammatical structures to their usage pattern and related language functions
- to practise pronunciation and intonation of English

Program 3

This course aims at developing the language skills that are specified above in Program 2. This is a special course for the students of 100% English medium instruction Faculty of Medicine and Faculty of Dentistry programs. Its overall objective is to help learners to focus more on productive skills of English.

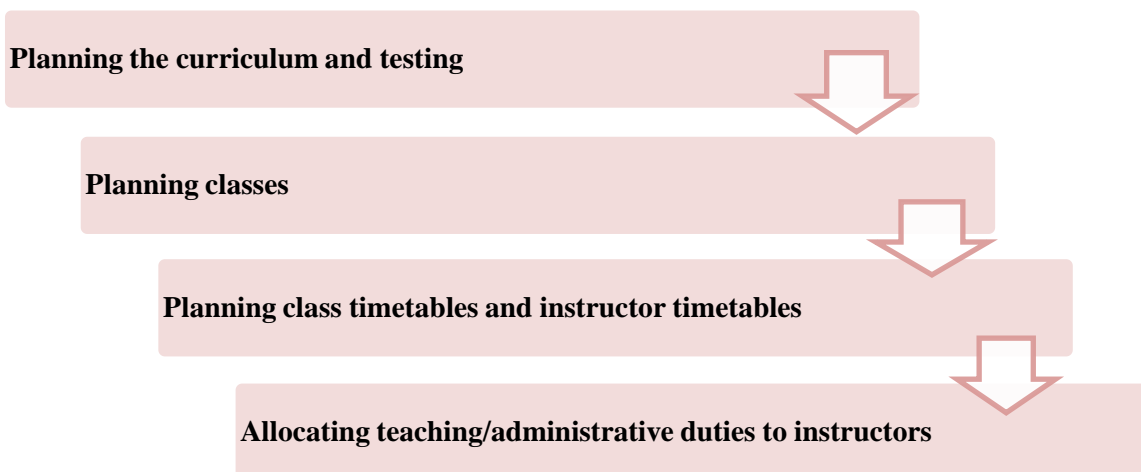

Program 3 is compulsory for these students if they start the fall semester in Program 2 and finish Program 2 successfully at the end of the fall semester. Program 3 is not offered in fall semesters. In spring semesters, Program 3 population is around 20, and they are grouped into maximum 2 sections. Program 3 is not offered during the Summer Term. Within the framework of the learning outcomes and competences designed for the course, the objectives are as follows:

- to read and respond to various academic texts
- to deduce meanings from context and comprehend complex texts
- to produce academic texts on topics which are common in their field of study
- to expand their knowledge of vocabulary for comprehension and production
- to cope with the challenges in academic life (e.g. taking notes during lectures, explaining ideas and views, delivering short presentations)
- to keep an academic conversation going and/or to enter unprepared into an academic conversation

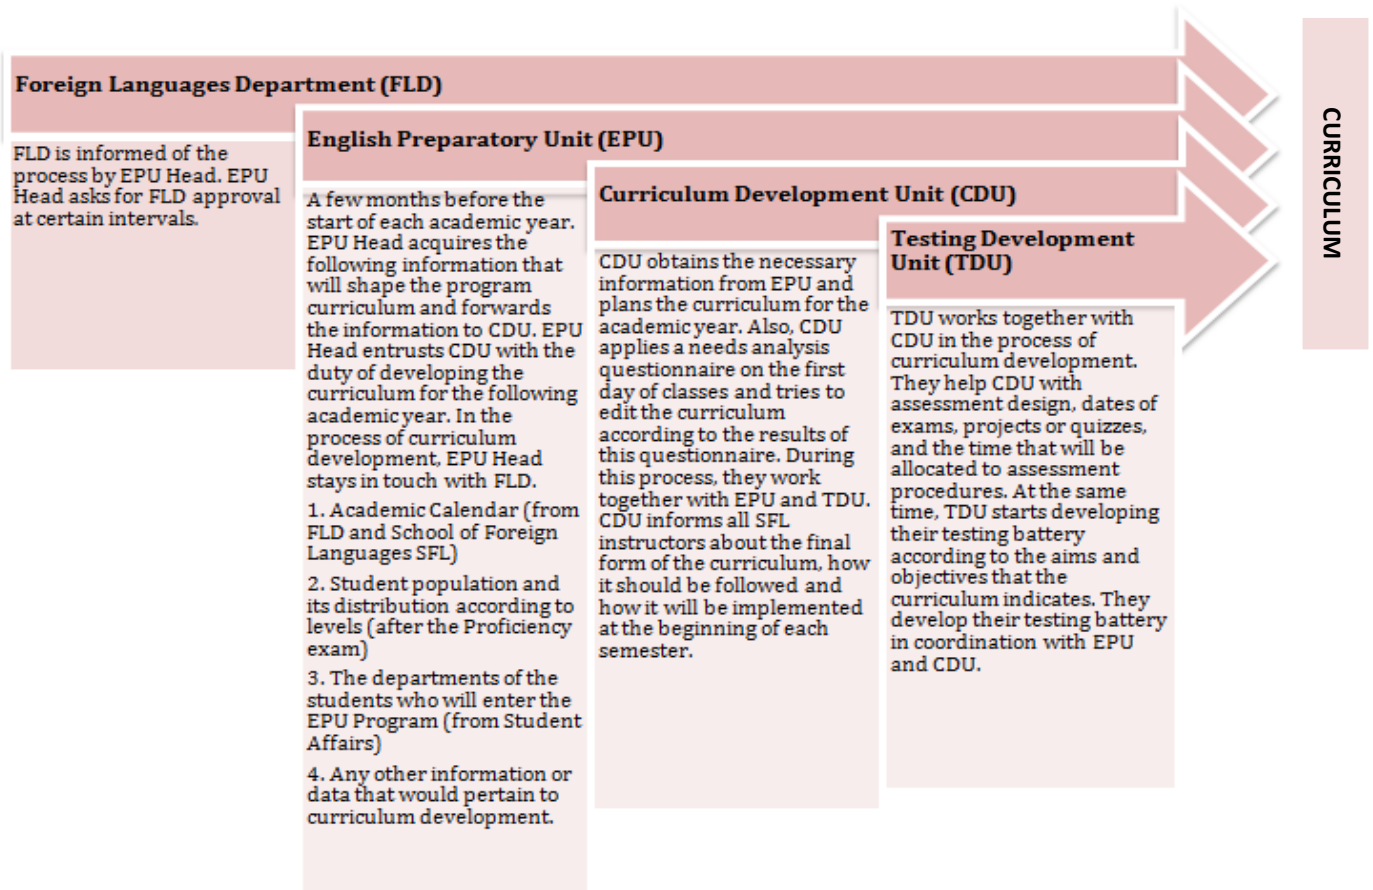

5.1.2. Coordination Process in the EPU

5.1.2.1. Procedures Before the Prep Program Implementation

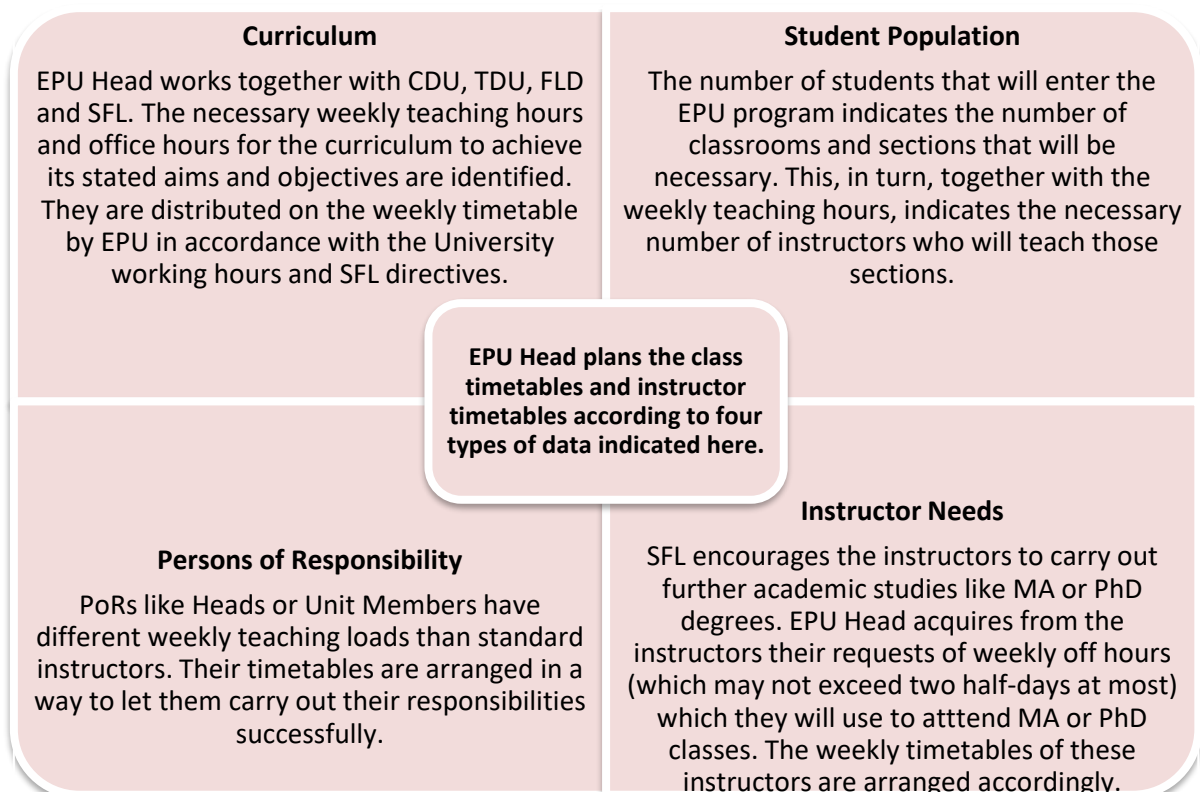

At the start of each academic year, EPU follows the procedures below to prepare its English Preparatory Program for implementation.

5.1.2.2. Planning Curriculum and Testing

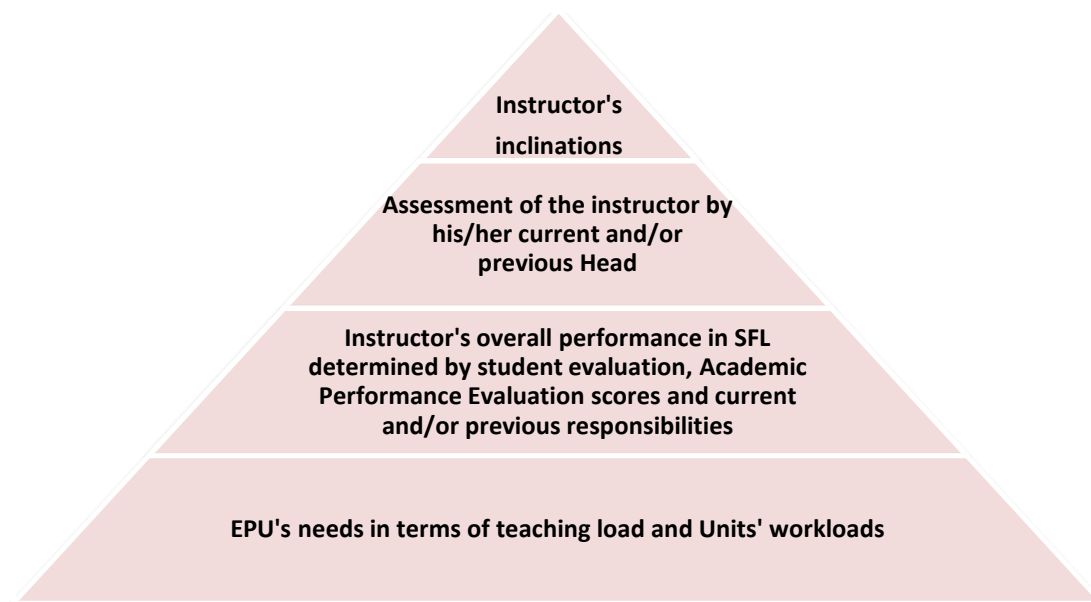

5.1.2.3. Planning Class Timetables and Instructor Timetables

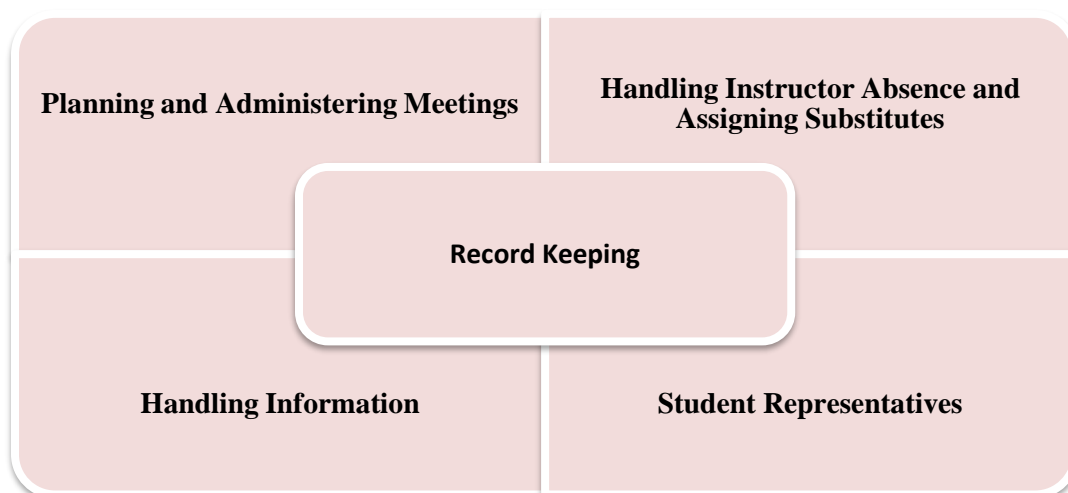

5.1.2.4. Allocating Teaching / Administrative Duties to Instructors

The EPU Head, with the approval of FLD and the BU-SFL Board, allocates teaching and administrative duties to different instructors in accordance with the criteria indicated in the pyramid below. From bottom to top, the pyramid indicates the importance of the criteria in this process.

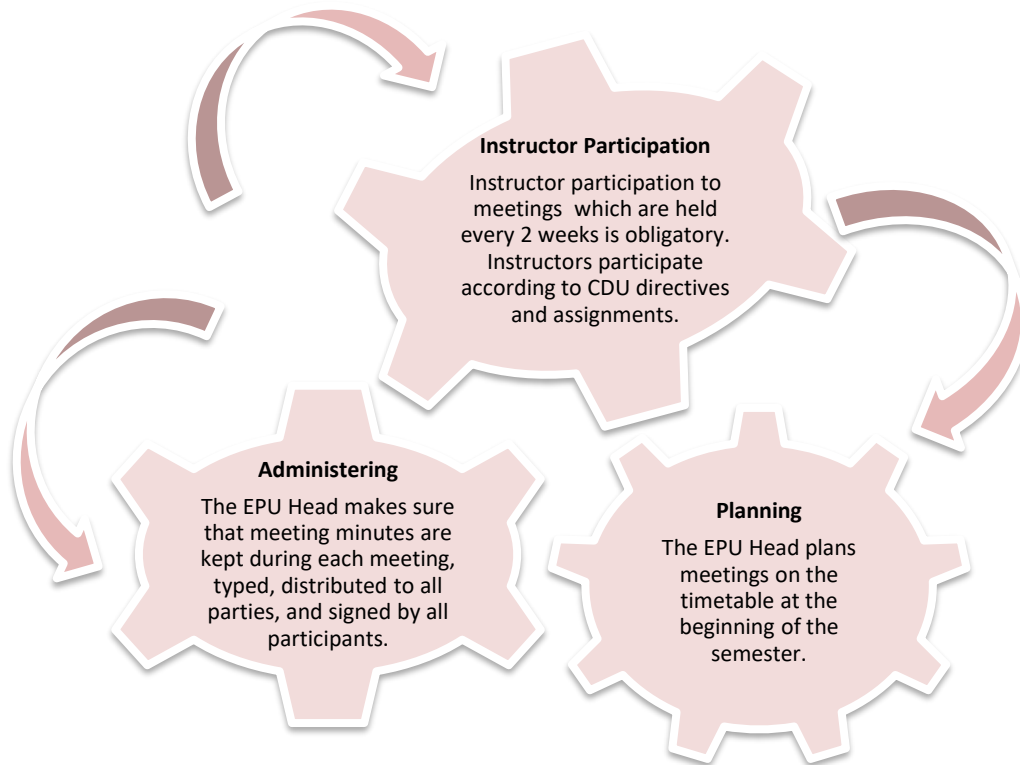

5.1.3. Procedures Followed During Prep Program Implementation

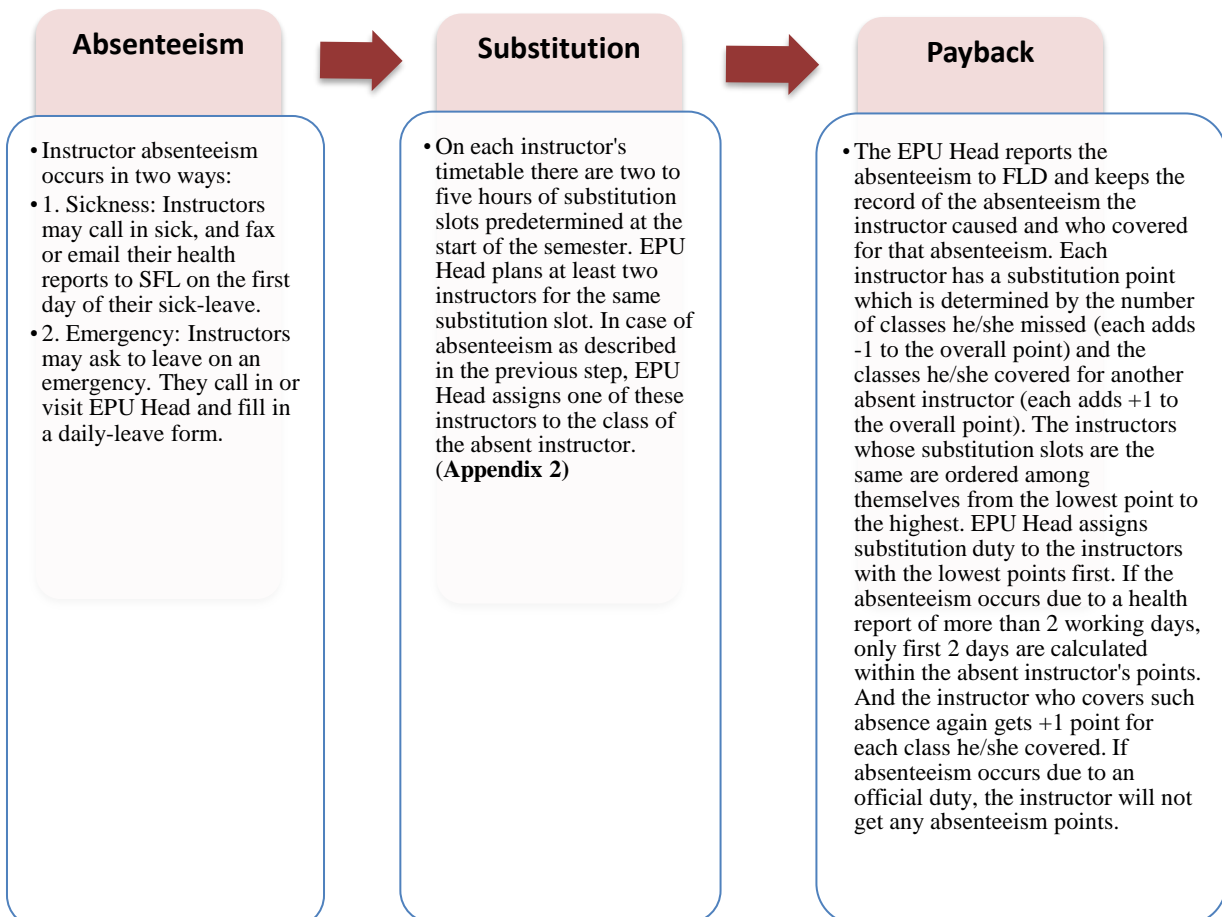

Once the English Preparatory Program is ready for implementation, the EPU Head carries out the following procedures to monitor and manage the program implementation process.

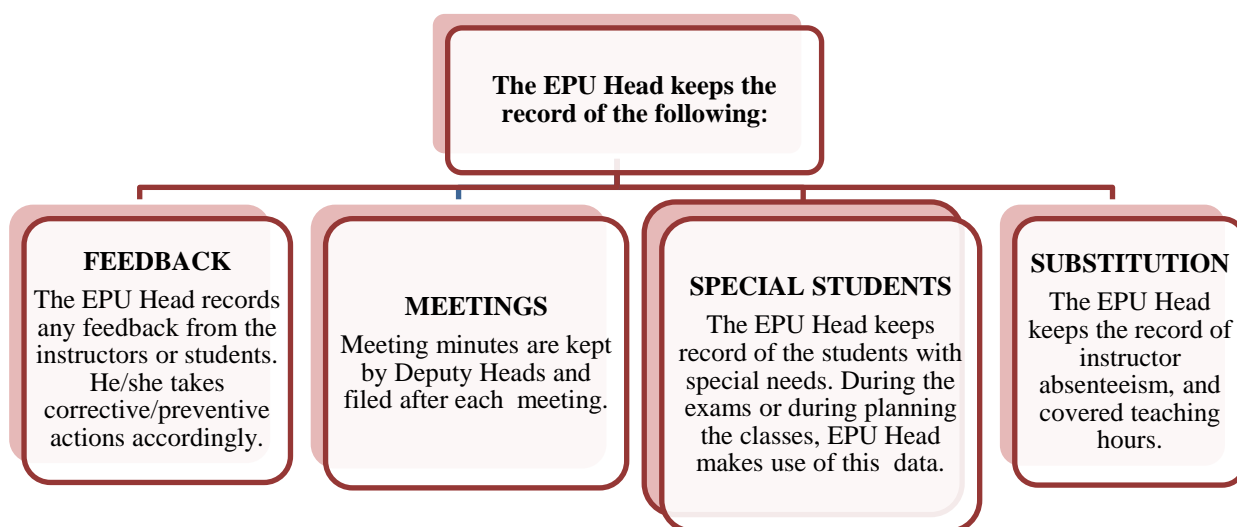

5.1.3.1. Planning and Administering Meetings

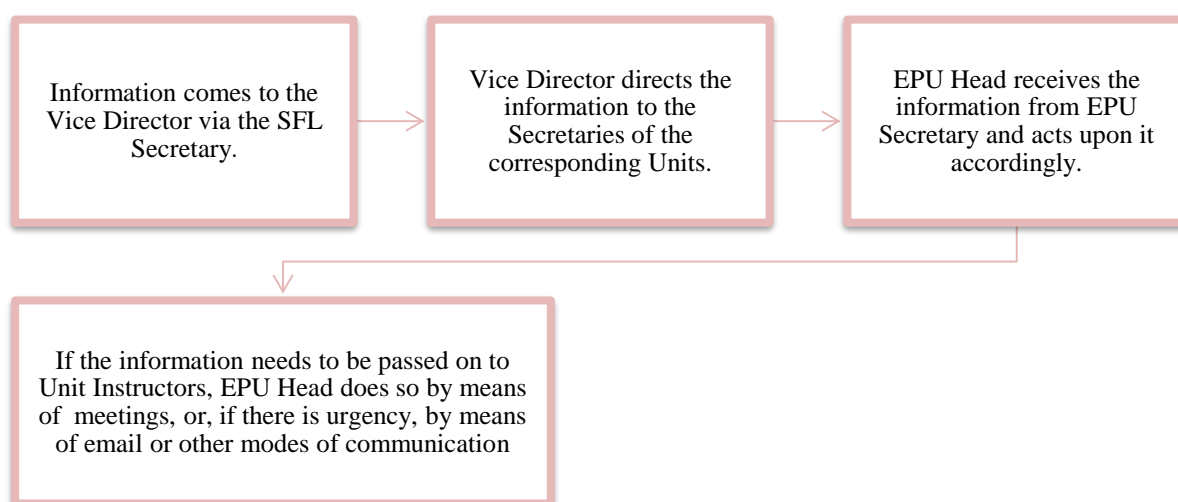

5.1.3.2 Handling Instructor Absence and Assigning Substitutes

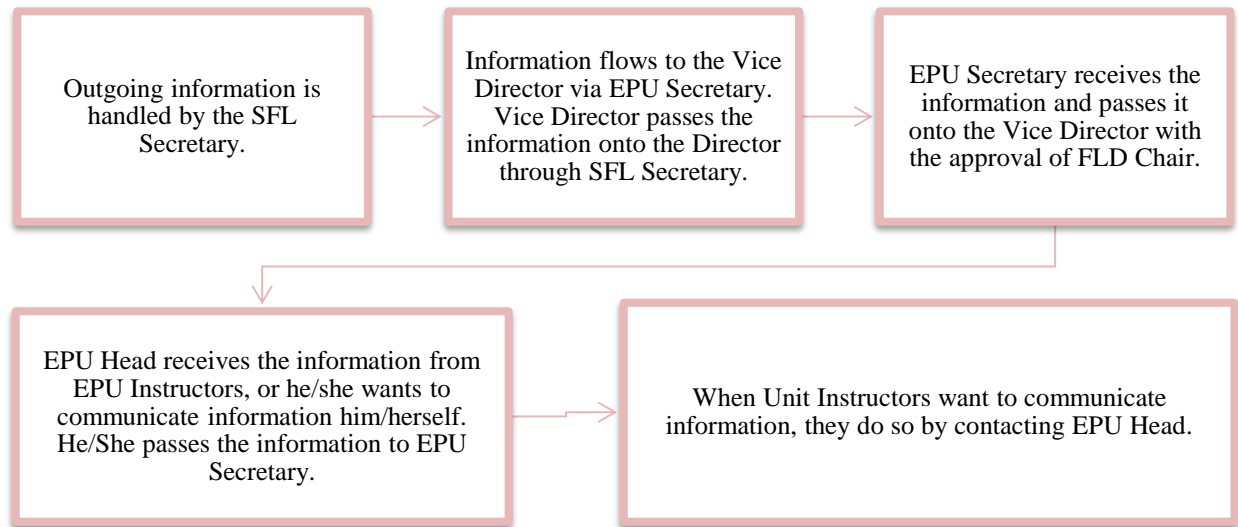

5.1.3.3. Record Keeping

5.1.3.4. Handling Incoming – Outgoing Information

5.1.3.5. Student Representatives

Student representatives are mainly responsible for acting as a contact person who help communicate the feedback of their classmates regarding EPU curriculum, units and facilities to the EPU administrators. Each class is supposed to elect a representative at the beginning of the semester through the voting process EPU frames. EPU administrators hold monthly meetings with the representatives. The overall objective of these meetings is mainly to improve EPU services and improve the teaching and learning environment. The minutes of these meetings are kept by the EPU. The outcomes are shared with the BU-SFL Board.

5.1.3.5.1 General Code for Class Student Representative Elections

1. A few weeks into the semester, each class elects one of themselves as the Student Representative of this class.
2. At least three days before the election, the time and date of the election is announced in the classrooms and the students start considering their options.
3. The Preparatory Program Student Representative (who represents all the students enrolled in the Program in the University platform) cannot also be a Class Student Representative due to the workload two duties may bring, which in turn may adversely affect the student's success.
4. Students who want to be a Class Representative must campaign until the date of the election. There will not be a separate nomination process. The candidates must campaign outside teaching hours.
5. At least 60% of the total class population must be present for the election. If there are fewer students in the classroom, the election is postponed until the next teaching hour when the required number will be ready.

6. Students who are not in the classroom during the election lose their voting rights and in their absence the elected Student Representative shall also represent them. They do not have the right to challenge the selected Student Representative.

7. Student Representation duty starts as soon as election is through. The Student Representatives will attend the meetings that will be held each month at the dates to be announced by the EPU.

5.1.3.5.2 Procedures on the Day of Election

1. The election will be managed by the instructor who is teaching that hour. (Even if this instructor is a substitute Instructor.)

2. Students in the classroom are counted. If at least 60% of the total class size is in the classroom, the election takes place.

3. If there are not enough students in the classroom, the election is postponed until the number of students is sufficient.

4. The instructor asks the class representative candidates to stand up and say their names and surnames. The names of the candidates are written on the whiteboard.

5. Each student vote for one of the candidates by writing his/her name on a piece of paper, and then s/he folds the paper and waits.

6. The instructor himself/herself collects the papers from the students one by one by visiting each student. (The instructor must not use a different method to collect the papers. He/she must do it personally.)

7. The instructor counts the votes on the papers and writes the number of votes they have received before writing the candidate names on the board.

8. The candidate who has obtained the majority of votes shall be declared a Class Student Representative.

9. The instructor fills out the relevant form (Appendix 3), and all students sign the form by filling in their student numbers, first and last names.

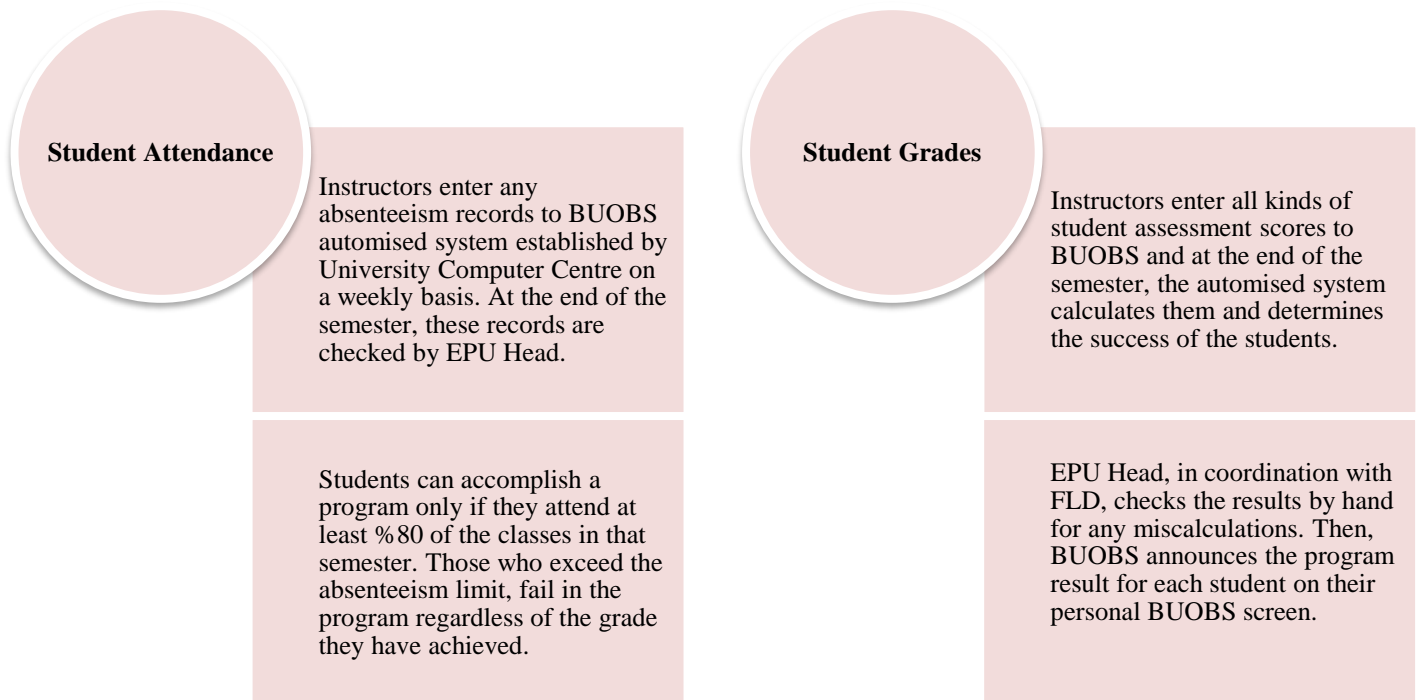

10. At the end the teaching hour, the form will be delivered to the English Preparatory Unit by the instructor himself/herself personally.

11. The instructors must not make any comments regarding the candidates or the outcome of the election or intervene in the election process in any way.

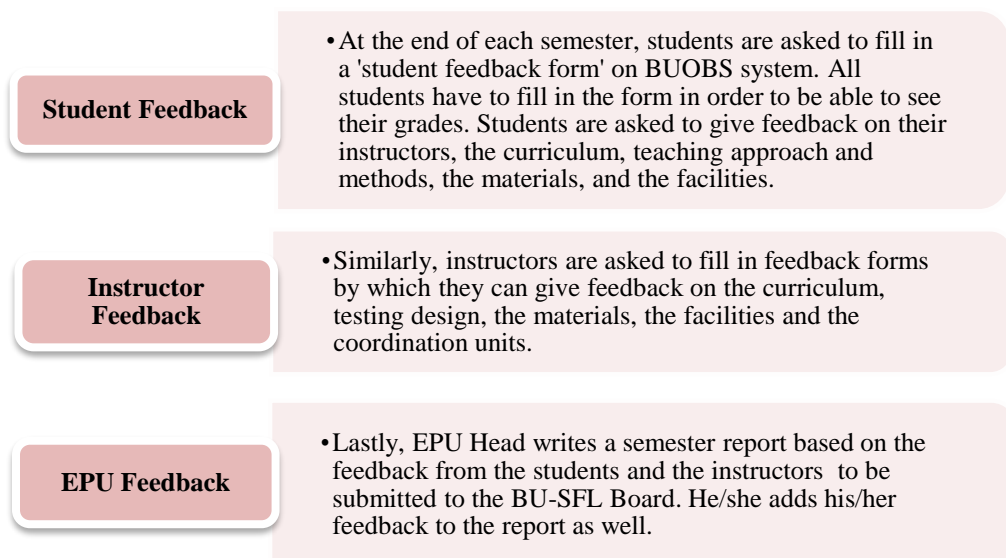

5.1.4. Procedures After the Prep Program Implementation

At the end of each semester, EPU follows the procedures below to close the program.

5.1.4.1. Program Closure

5.1.4.2. Feedback

5.2. BU-SFL ACADEMIC ENGLISH UNIT

Academic English Unit (AEU), established as a department affiliated to the BU-SFL, is responsible for providing mainly three educational programs to those students who are studying in Turkish, %30 English or %100 English medium undergraduate programs in Başkent University. Therefore, its mission is to offer English courses to further develop students' academic skills, to support their studies and to prepare them for their career and to help them become life-long learners. These courses, prepared through the collaboration of English teachers, faculty members, administrators and students, aim to provide our students with individual development opportunities through English language instruction by using the skills acquired and to guide them towards becoming resourceful, innovative and enterprising individuals.

The AEU aims to:

- provide both students and teachers with a positive learning environment in which they can thrive
- offer need-specific and up-to-date content with the highest quality possible
- endow students with essential language skills with which they can distinguish themselves in academic and business contexts
- help students develop learner autonomy so that they become life-long learners
- implement instructional technologies to improve the quality of education
- seek and apply the latest trends to language teaching

5.2.1. Programs Offered by the AEU

The AEU offers three different English programs to Başkent University students; General English (GE), English for Academic Purposes (EAP) and English for Specific and Academic Purposes (ESAP). (Appendix 4)

General English Program

GE is a program which aims to improve students' English language by developing lexical and grammatical knowledge and four language skills (reading, listening, speaking and writing). Learning outcome for vocational school students who do not attend preparatory classes is A1, whereas for four year program students the outcome is B1+.

English for Academic Purposes

EAP is a B1 level program that aims to teach academic English. The program includes courses which are designed to develop four language skills and an integrated academic language competence. In these courses, students are encouraged to become autonomous in terms of using the language in their major. Learning outcome for these courses is B1+.

English for Specific and Academic Purposes

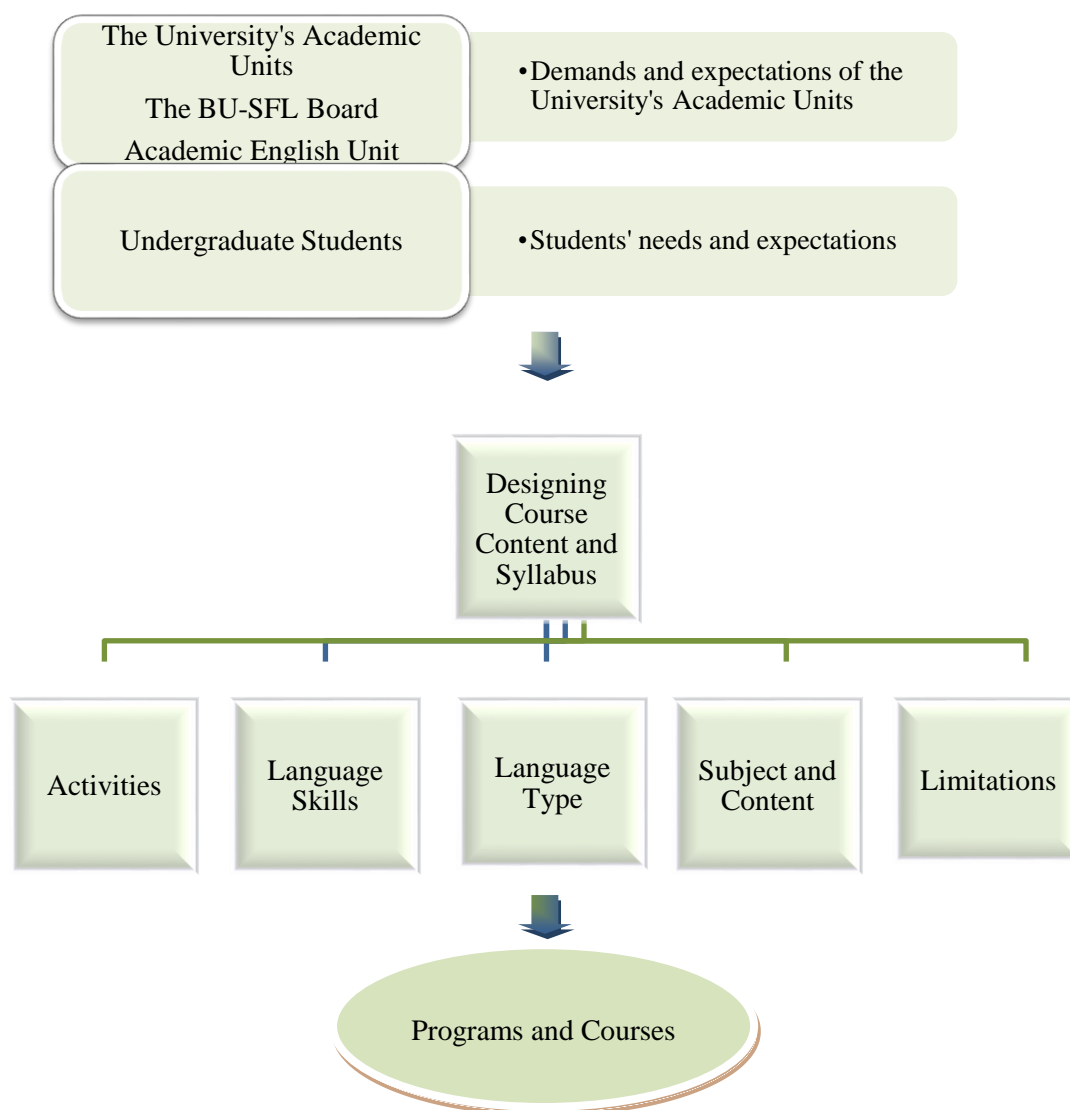

ESAP is a B1+ program which aims to teach professional and academic English. The courses are designed to develop four basic language skills and academic and field-specific language in an integrated manner. Besides the field specific courses, the program comprises such courses as Presentation Skills, Translation and Advanced Reading, Writing and Listening. In these courses, students are encouraged to become autonomous in terms of using the language in their major. Learning outcome for these courses is B2.

5.2.2. Coordination Process in the AEU

5.2.2.1. Procedures before the Academic Year

At the start of each academic year, the AEU follows the procedures below to prepare its language programs for implementation.

5.2.2.1.1. Planning Program Design and Syllabus

5.2.2.1.2. Planning, Scheduling Courses and Preparing Timetables

Head of the Unit and Deputy Heads
Educational Planner
Public Relations Coordinator
The University's Academic Units

- 1st and 2nd year programs are requested from departments. 3rd and 4th year classes are not included in the process at this stage.

Head of the Unit and Deputy Heads
Educational Planner

- Programs submitted by the departments are written manually on course schedule sheets (Appendix 5)

Head of the Unit and Deputy Heads
Educational Planner
Instructors

- After the number of students is determined, sections are formed according to departments for each course.
- The number of instructors who are in charge of administrative, testing and curriculum duties and those who will only attend classes is determined.
- Appropriate course groupings and matching are done according to available classrooms and courses.
- Teaching programs are prepared for curriculum and testing coordinators and for those who attend classes only. Programs do not include instructor name at this stage.

BU-SFL Board
Head of the Unit and Deputy Heads
Educational Planner
Public Relations Coordinator
Curriculum and Development Unit
Instructors

- Names of the instructors and classroom numbers are written on course schedule sheets under the supervision of Department of Foreign Languages. In doing so, appropriate changes are made based on instructor performance evaluations.
- A meeting is held a week before the start of each academic semester. Course schedules are distributed to instructors.

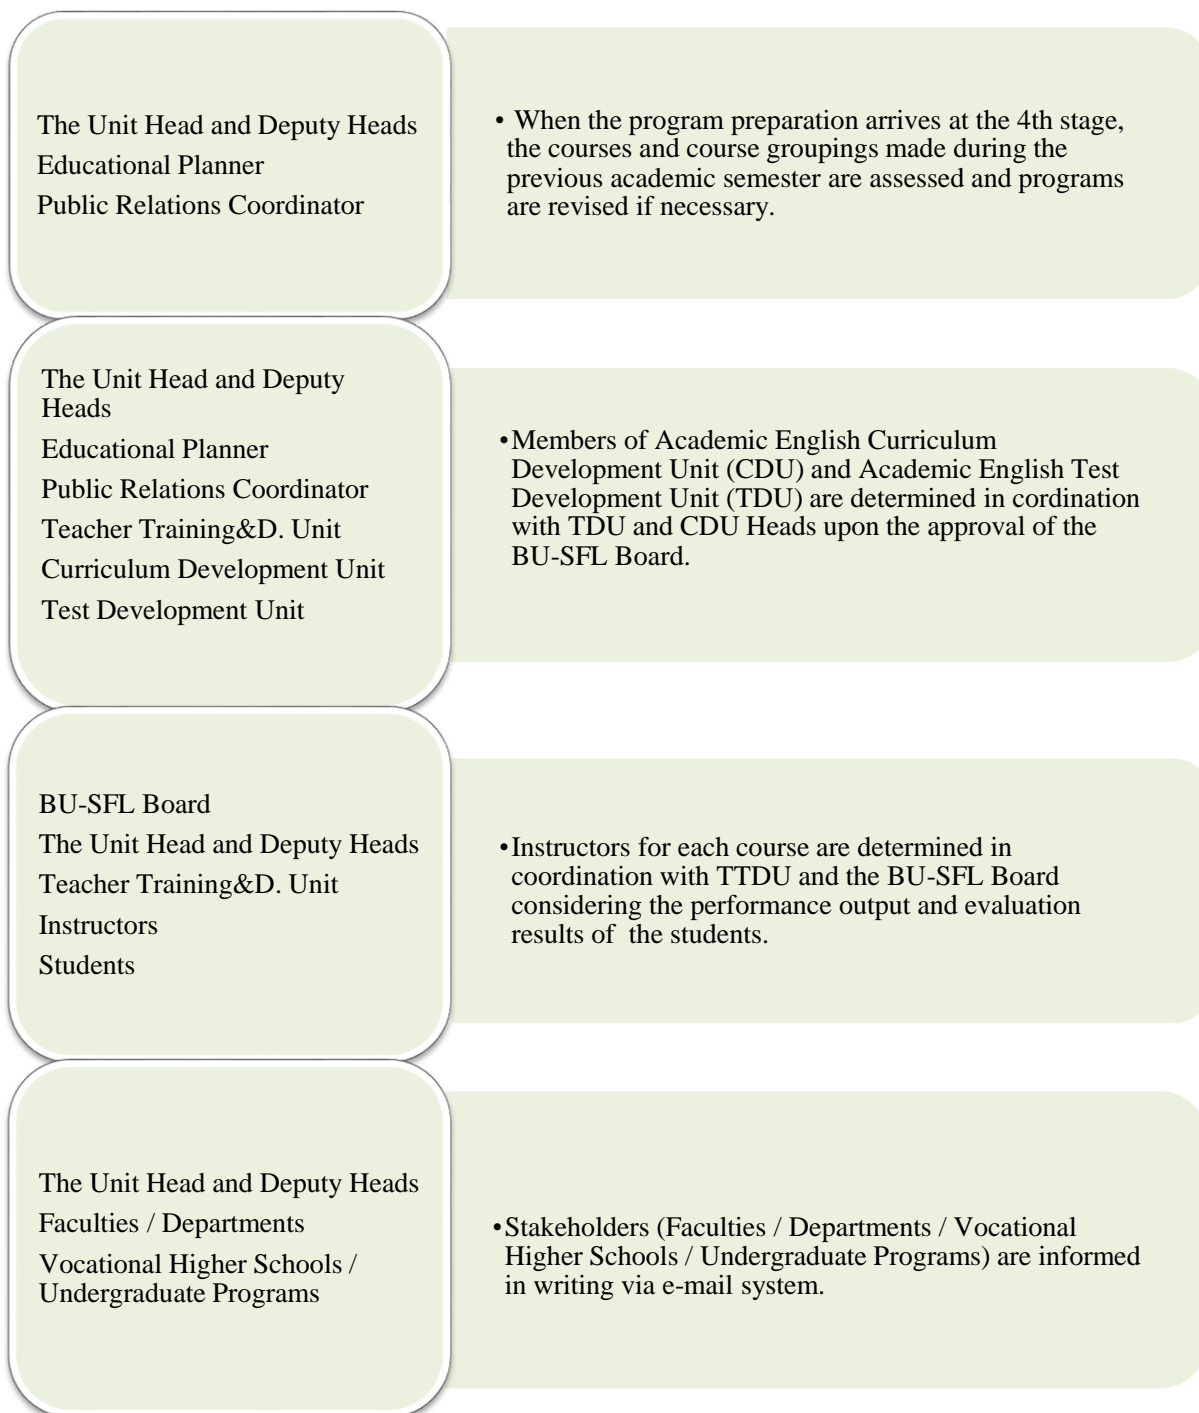

5.2.2.1.3. Registration

Head of the Unit and Deputy Heads
Educational Planner
Students
The University's Academic Units
The University's IT Center
Student Registrar Office

- The courses and sections to be opened in the upcoming academic term determined during the scheduling stage are transferred to the Information Package before the registration is opened. These include course schedules, classroom and section numbers, but names of instructors who will be in charge of courses are not included.
- When the online registration system is on, students are provided with guidance in selecting the appropriate courses and sections by the Academic English Unit.
- When necessary, the quota of sections is increased or sections are closed / opened.
- Course schedules are updated according to the number of sections opened and closed after the online student registration is over.
- Students are allowed to switch between sections only in case of course overlap so that there is no problem in the quota during the add-drop period.

5.2.2.1.4. Assigning Teaching and Administrative Duties to Instructors

After the number of instructors required for these courses is approved by the BU-SFL Board, duties are assigned according to the objectives, outputs and feedback received.

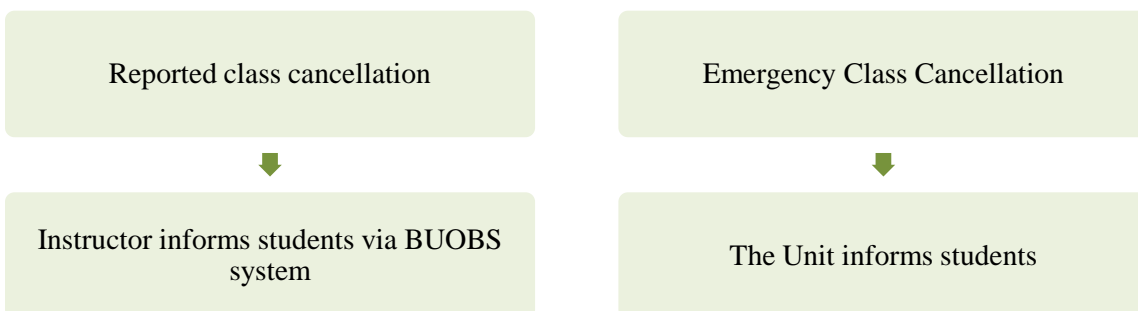

5.2.3. Procedures Followed During the Academic Year

5.2.3.1. Class Cancellation and Instructor Absenteeism

Unless there is an emergency, instructors carry out lessons according to their weekly schedule. (Appendix 6,7). For each course cancelled, the lecturer is obliged to schedule a make-up lesson. (Appendix 8)

The Unit Head and Deputy Heads Instructors Students	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •In case of an emergency, instructor informs the unit head at least 10 minutes before the lesson. If there is a known course cancellation, the instructor sends an information message to students via the BUOBS system at least one day before.
Instructors Students	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •In the first lesson after absenteeism, the instructor plans a make-up class with the students according to their schedule.
The Unit Head and Deputy Heads Instructors	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •The instructor informs the head of the unit about the day and time of the class. After receiving information of the appropriate make-up class, s/he records it in the relevant file.
Instructors	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •The instructor enters student absenteeism into the BUOBS system after s/he has carried out the make-up class.

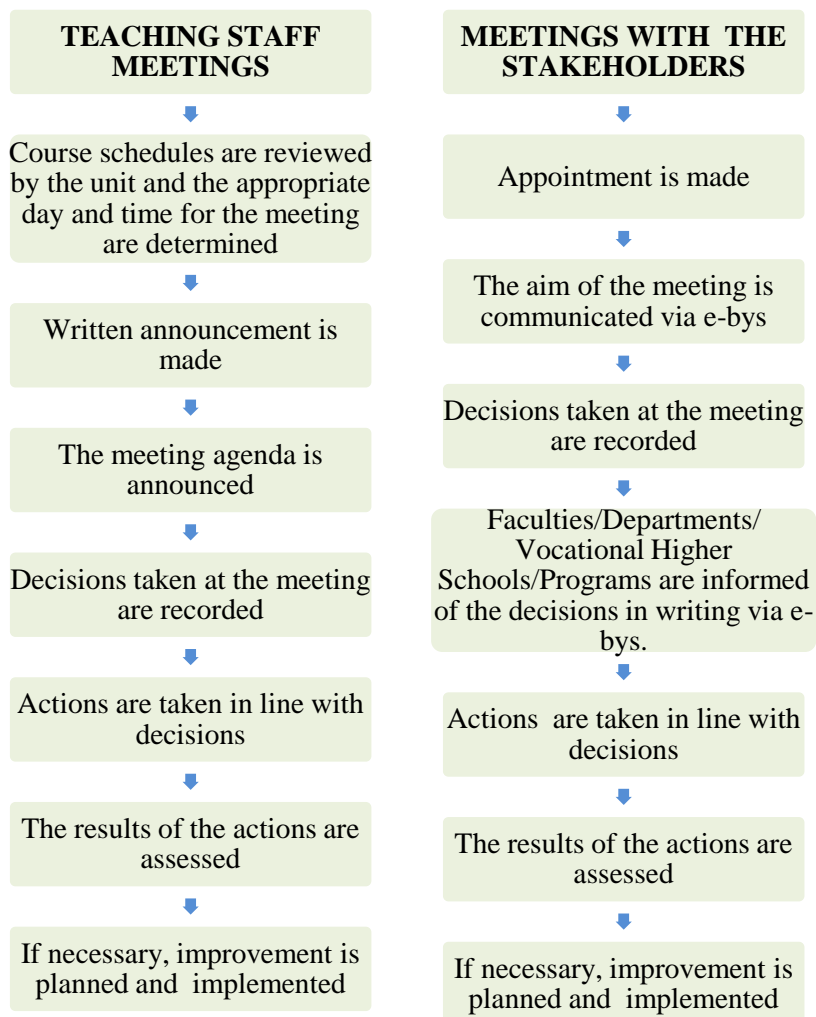

Class Cancellation

5.2.3.2. Organizing and Administering Meetings

Various regular meetings are held at the beginning, during and after each academic term. These meetings are mainly arranged within units as well as with the other stakeholders at the university. These meetings help to ensure the continuity of the quality of education. They also aim to assess whether the objectives are being achieved and match the mission and vision of the unit based on the output obtained. By doing so, the Academic English Unit pursues continuous improvement in the direction of feedback received. (Appendix 9)

Stakeholders

- Teaching Staff Meetings: AEU administration and instructors
- Meetings with the Stakeholders: Academic English Unit Head and Assistant Heads, Faculties /Departments, Vocational Higher Schools / Programs, instructors and faculty members

Teaching staff meetings can be categorized under 3 main headings:

5.2.3.3. Handling Information

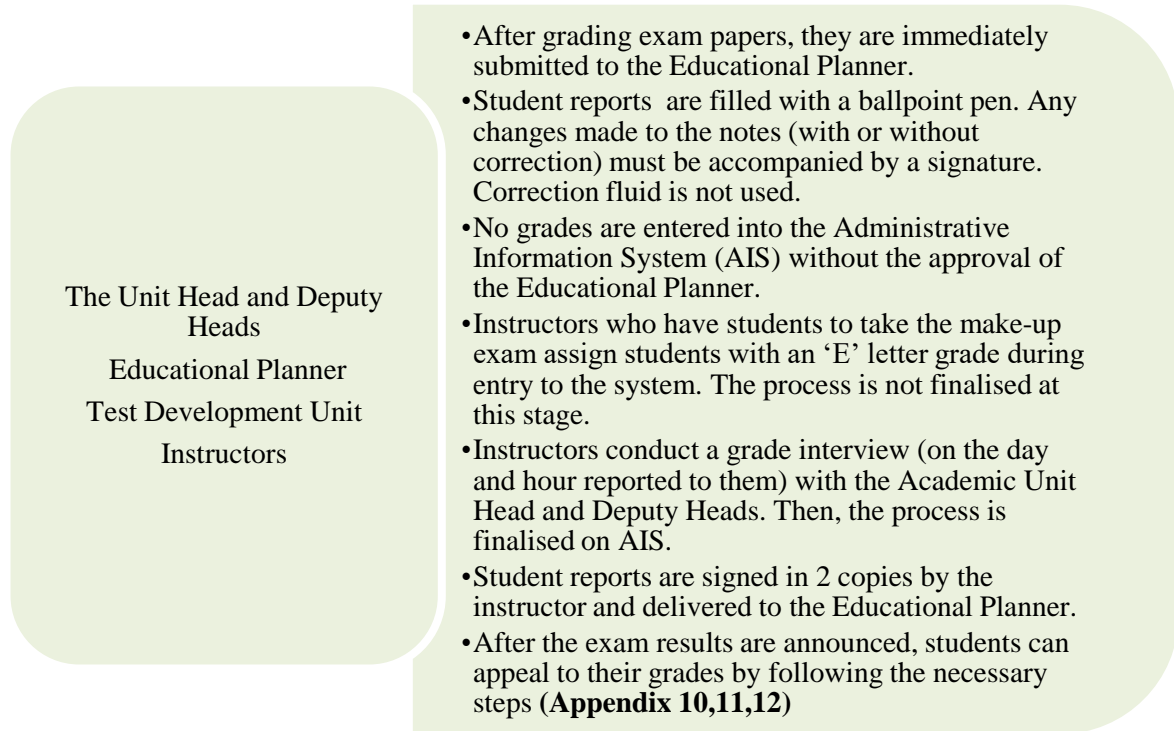

BU-SFL Board
The Unit Head and Assistants
Secretary of Academic English Unit
Test Development Unit
Faculties / Departments
Vocational Higher Schools / Programs
Instructors
Students

- Incoming correspondences are directed to the Unit Head by the BU-SFL Vice Director.
- Once correspondences are examined, they are processed in two separate groups: health / report documents and other correspondences.
- Student health / report documents are not processed and deducted from absenteeism if the report is not issued by a medical committee according to section 4, article 25 of Education and Examination Regulation of Başkent University. However, if there is a health report that corresponds to the exam day and time and if it is approved by the university health center and sent with faculty / department approval, the Test Development Unit is informed to give the relevant student a make-up exam.
- Correspondences received from other faculties / departments, vocational higher schools / programs, units or centers of the university are evaluated and new action plans are made in line with the feedback and as a result necessary written information is provided after the approval of the BU-SFL Board.

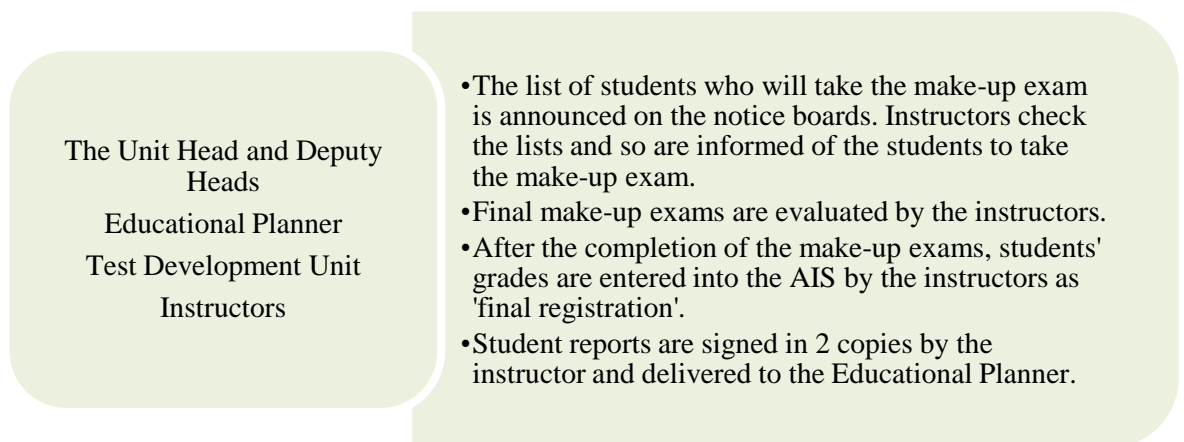

5.2.4. Procedures Followed at the End of the Academic Year

5.2.4.1. Exam Evaluation and Grading

At the end of each academic term, the exam evaluation process is as follows:

At the end of each academic term, the steps taken for the make-up exam process are given below:

Summer School Program

Planning	Implementing	Closing
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Procedures for the end of academic year are carried out at this stage for summer school. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Summer school is divided into two terms. Each term consists of 4 weeks of instruction. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Procedures stated above for before and during academic year are also carried out for summer school. •At the end of academic year, instructors are asked to submit their request of summer course by filling out the Summer School Request form. (Appendix 13)

5.3 BU-SFL MODERN LANGUAGES UNIT

Modern Languages Unit offers a variety of foreign language courses - other than English - to encourage our undergraduate students to develop their ability to communicate confidently and successfully in an international context. (Appendix 14) The unit sees its role as one that prepares our students to become informed global citizens. It continuously strives to add value to the School of Foreign Languages by designing new or updated instructional programs that take into account Başkent University students' needs and goals. The mission of the MLU is:

- to provide students with daily communication skills in one or more foreign languages
- to contribute to students' academic, social and personal development by providing opportunities for them to broaden their horizon by experiencing new and different languages and cultures
- to promote cultural understanding by offering insights into the lifestyle of other countries through the medium of its language
- to help them improve study skills and develop appropriate strategies to express themselves with increasing confidence, creativity and independence

Our vision is to become a unit promoting linguistic diversity in our university, to encourage the teaching of a wide-range of foreign languages spoken worldwide, and to contribute to our graduates' career advancement at national and international levels.

5.3.1. Programs Offered by the MLU

The MLU offers elective foreign language courses with 8 different levels, each of which is covered with a one semester / 14 week-syllabus. Each course lasts three hours a week. The curriculum includes German, Arabic, Azerbaijani, Chinese, French, Spanish, Italian and Russian courses, and students can enroll in one or more to enhance their linguistic abilities and cultural understanding. However, the courses require prerequisites so that students will have to complete a lower level language course before they are accepted into the next level.

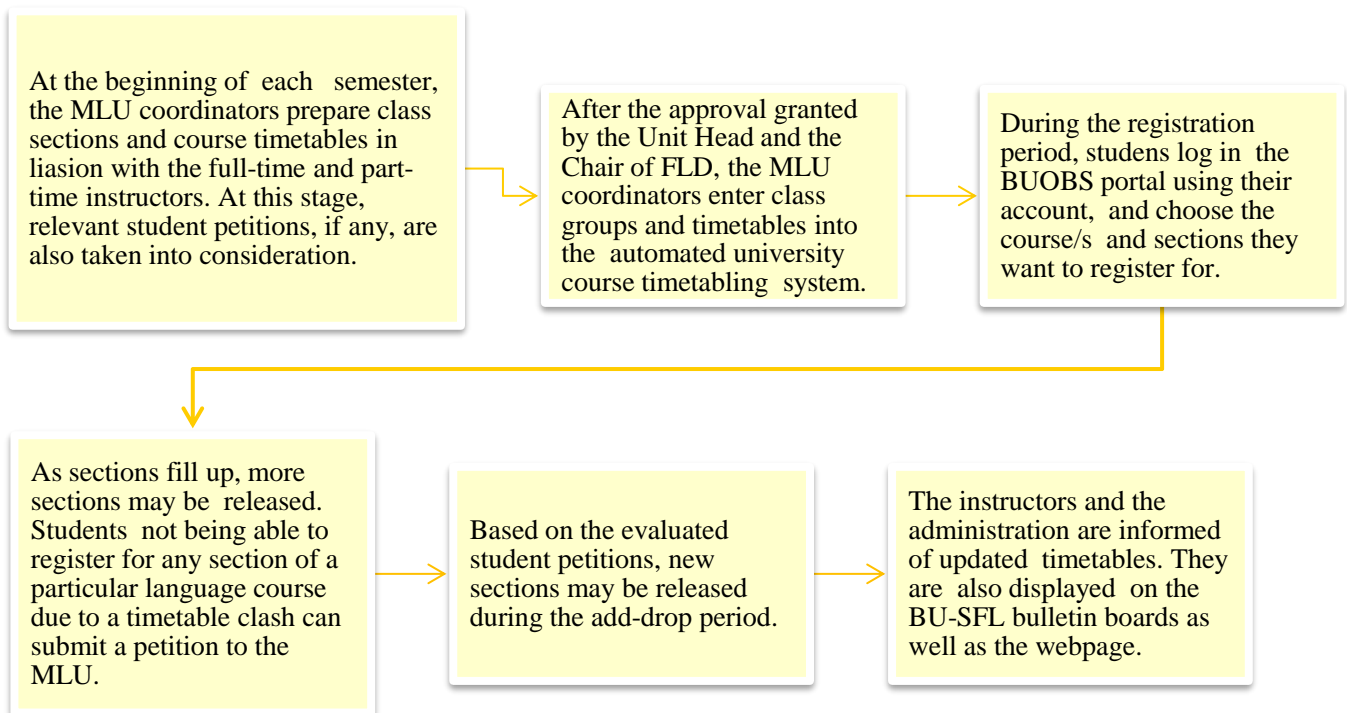

These courses are all taken for credit, but the Level 1 and Level 2 courses of each language program provide both credit and non-credit options. In addition to credit and non-credit electives, the Modern Languages Unit delivers compulsory Italian courses to State Conservatory students. Arabic and French have been added to the curriculum as of the 2017-2018 academic year as a result of the feedback given by students during the 2016-2017 academic year.

At the MLU, there are eight full-time and part-time language instructors and each language program is implemented by one or two of them. Given the small number of teaching staff at the MLU, coordination processes are easier to follow and in most cases instructors can directly liaise with the Unit Head, TDU, and CDU or take their own initiative to improve their teaching activities.

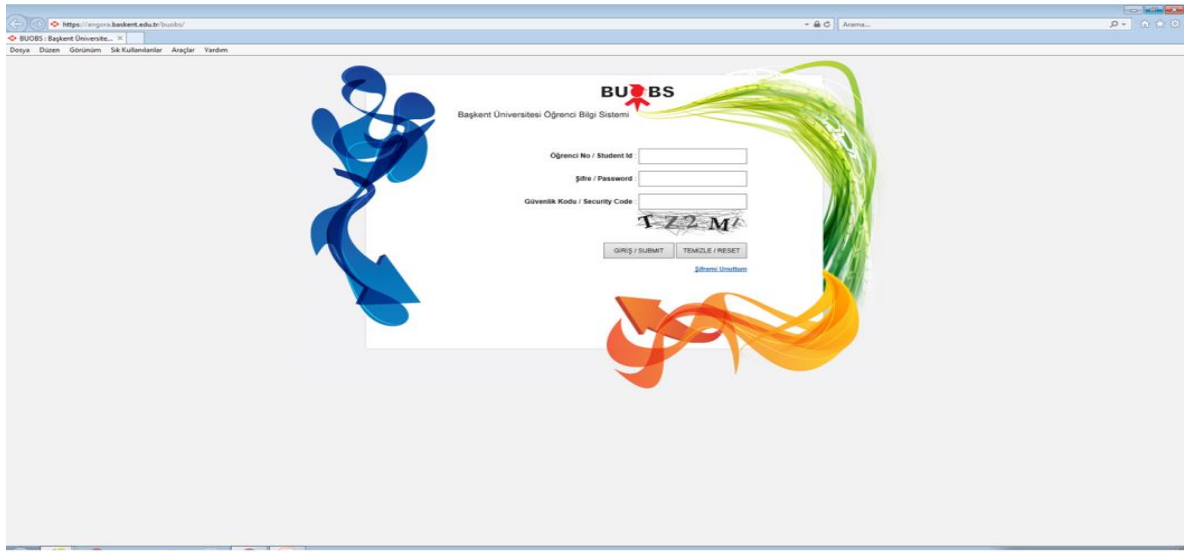

As for the learning outcomes of the curriculum, students who have successfully completed an 8-course-program are expected to achieve the A2 level as defined by the Common European Framework of Reference (CEFR). (please see Appendix 15 for a sample syllabus) Through engaging and challenging lessons, students develop their listening, speaking, writing, and reading skills; expand their vocabulary; as well as, acquiring a sense of cultural competence. They are encouraged to become autonomous learners, taking an active role in their learning process, and using the target language actively through communicative activities provided by the instructors. Language instruction is carried out using book series or compiled materials , designed in accordance with CEFR standards, and modern audio-visual course materials to help enrich learning.

5.3.2. Coordination Procedure at the MLU

5.3.2.1. Procedure before the Program Implementation

STUDENT AFFAIRS INFORMATION SYSTEM (BUOBS)

5.3.2.2. Procedures Followed During and at the End of the Semester

During and at the end of the semester, MLU coordination procedures are implemented as those for the AEU.

6. BU-SFL POLICIES

6.1 QUALITY POLICY

The BU-SFL strives for an effective teaching-learning environment. For doing so, its foreign language education programs are continuously planned, implemented and reviewed through systematic and documented activities, and the outcomes are reflected in programs and managerial practices with the corrective and preventive changes made.

BU-SFL's quality policy is defined and strongly driven by the following principles:

- consistently providing a quality foreign language education for improved student success and satisfaction
- being sensitive to the changing needs and goals of students, teachers, administrative and support staff, as well as those of the university and the community
- being adherent to existing laws, regulations, and global standards
- establishing a quality-oriented and learning culture in the school that inspires staff to excel
- learning from experience and feedback gained from monitoring each and every process
- adopting a holistic approach towards quality within the school system and maintaining this stance towards its inter-related components

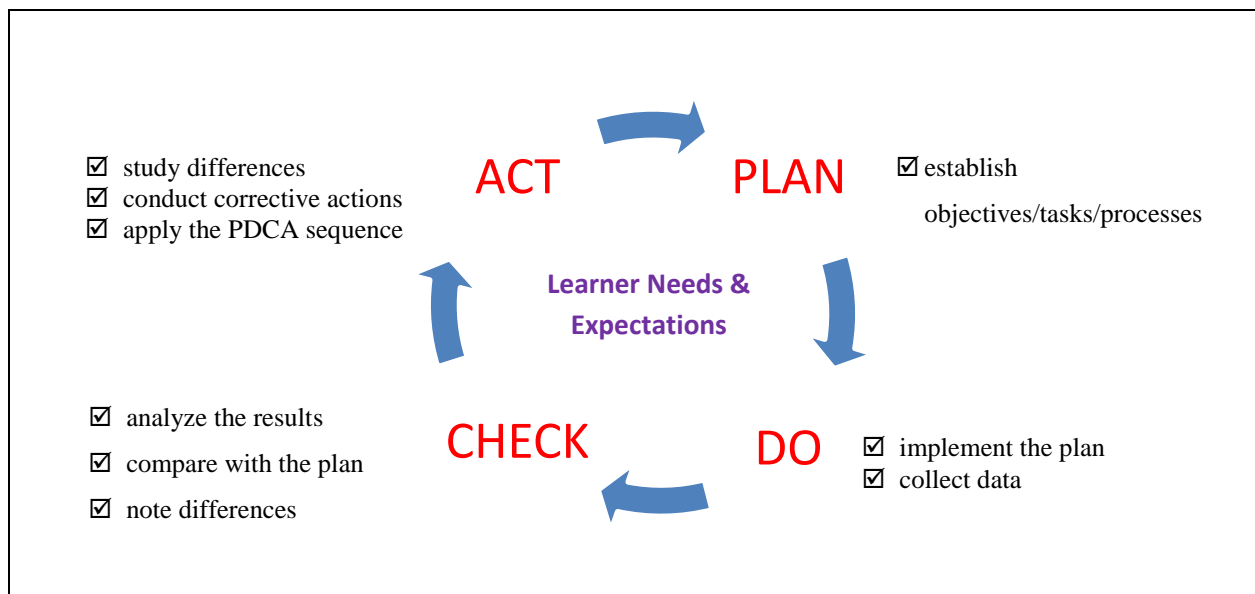

Based on the quality policy, BU-SFL's quality objectives are as follows:

- to communicate the quality policy and objectives to learners, staff, university faculty members and administration in order for increased stakeholder involvement
- to create and maintain a positive learning environment that helps each student feel safe, secure, valued and supported
- to meet or exceed our students' expectations through the provision of needs-based educational programs
- to design and document learning outcomes and appropriate assessment strategies to facilitate student learning, and to ensure individuals reach their full potential
- to ensure that relationships within the school are based on mutual respect, work ethics and collegial principles
- to make sure that teachers undertake effective teaching strategies underpinned by principles of best practice in pedagogy in order to maximize student learning outcomes
- to review, revise and monitor objectives, processes, procedures, documents and forms regularly to make improvements in:
 - curriculum design
 - teaching-learning materials, resources, facilities
 - assessment

- professional development
 - classroom interactions
 - working conditions
 - organizational decisions and operations
 - relations with other academic units at the university
 - ethos and overall climate
- to recruit, develop and retain qualified foreign language instructors, administrative and support staff who continually diversify their skill set to better their professionalism and expertise
 - to design, use, evaluate and continuously improve quality assurance tools and techniques in order to:
 - make sound judgments about the quality process in learning, teaching and managing
 - develop improvement plans based on these judgments
 - to have the BU-SFL's educational programs to be accredited by an external body for quality assurance at regular intervals

6.1.1. The PDCA Cycle for Continuous Quality Improvement

Our school adopts the methodology of the PDCA Cycle (Plan, Do, Check, Act), also known as the Deming Wheel, for continuous quality improvement and accepts the fact that the cycle has no end. The Administrative body of the school is responsible for ensuring that the cycle is being implemented by each academic and administrative unit of the school in an efficient fashion.

Adapted from: Heyworth, F. 2013. Applications of quality management in language education. Language Teaching, 46:3, 281-315.

The quality cycle begins with the Plan step. In this step, the operational process is mapped by all unit heads and coordinators. To this end,

- needs assessment is done (e.g. needs of learners and staff)
- learning/task objectives are identified
- predicted outcomes are defined

- programs, activity timetables, and procedures are designed
- staff roles and responsibilities are delegated
- every step is documented

The Do phase of the cycle allows the plan to be executed. In this phase:

- planned teaching-learning program is carried out (e.g. instruction is provided following the learning objectives)
- procedures and processes are implemented
- the stakeholders are kept informed of the progress at all times
- every step is documented so as to collect data for analysis in the next step

In the Check step,

- evaluations of curriculum, teaching, learning and management are done
- effectiveness of the procedures, activities and processes is reviewed
- outcomes are analyzed to see whether they match the predicted ones
- areas in need of improvement are identified
- findings are documented

Based on the review results, action is taken for the next round of quality improvement efforts in the final Act stage:

- if the results are satisfactory and the objectives are met, then policies, processes and procedures are standardized
- if not, changes are made for improvement
- Repeat the plan-do-check-act steps

6.1.2. BU-SFL Quality Assurance System

The BU-SFL quality assurance system aims to measure the effectiveness of the quality management system and to develop action plans for improvement in the teaching-learning activities and organizational processes. The system also helps the administration monitor the implementation of the quality improvement cycle performed by each unit of the BU-SFL. For the attainment of quality assurance at the BU-SFL, it is vital to obtain student and teacher views on educational and organizational processes, since they are the key stakeholders to be taken into consideration for improvement in quality.

The BU-SFL employs various quantitative and qualitative tools and techniques in order to evaluate the process in the quality cycle. Unit-level and school-wide meetings are held to get continuous feedback on curriculum and assessment of the instructional programs. In addition, lesson observations, peer observations, induction programs and in-service seminars are designed to assure instructional quality. At the end of each academic year, an annual activity report on self-evaluation is prepared to make an overall review of the quality process. The outcomes of the review work are communicated to the staff, as well as the Rectorate and other interested parties. The BU-SFL's quality assurance tools and techniques are shown in detail below:

6.1.2.1 Quality Assurance Tools and Techniques

6.2 BU-SFL PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT POLICY

The BU-SFL supports its teaching staff to grow individually and professionally and to increase their efficacy. Its professional development policy is implemented by the Teacher Training and Development Unit (TTDU), which provides a variety of professional development activities to suit the needs and interests of the instructors. The unit equips the instructors with skills and techniques to stimulate a passion for lifelong learning, professional development and collaboration in a positive atmosphere. Among the TTDU's responsibilities are:

- to design and deliver pre-service and in-service teacher training and development programs
- to acquaint teachers with the most recent developments in ELT methodology, pedagogy and instructional practices

- to provide training and supervision in peer coaching work, such as classroom observations, video coaching and team teaching activities
- to organize and conduct clinical classroom observations for developmental purposes
- to plan, coordinate and deliver workshops and presentations (in-house and others) according to the needs, interests and expectations of the instructors
- to encourage and support instructors to participate in national and international workshops, seminars and conferences
- to evaluate instructional and institutional needs of the school throughout the year and design action plans for improvement

At the beginning of each academic year, the TTDU carries out a needs assessment to gather reliable data to design professional development programs and to continuously renew its practices (Appendix 27). Based on the needs and interests of the instructors, the unit members organize seminars, training courses, end-of-year workshops or other professional development sessions for novice as well as experienced teachers. The outcomes of these professional development programs are assessed through collecting, collating, triangulating and confirming pieces of feedback coming from all stakeholders. For this reason, at the end of the academic year a questionnaire is given to the teaching staff to assure the standards that commensurate with the aims and objectives of the TTDU. It consists of several questions intended to be answered by instructors in order to evaluate the TTDU's practices. An action plan is developed and implemented for the following academic year in line with the results of the questionnaire. Beside the end-of-year questionnaire on its overall activities, the TTDU collects feedback from the attending instructors on each professional development session delivered by the invited speakers, BU-SFL instructors, or TTDU members in order to assess whether the session is in link with the expectations and needs (Appendix 28).

6.2.1. BU-SFL Professional Development Programs

6.2.1.1. Induction Program

At the beginning of each academic year newly recruited teaching staff are required to participate in an induction program. The program provides new members with the information about the BU-SFL's organizational units and their operational systems. New teachers are also required to attend the in-service training program implemented throughout the academic year- it should be noted here that attending sessions of this program depends on their teaching schedule. This program aims to focus on the crucial areas of English Language Teaching including skills and language teaching as well as classroom management, lesson planning and learning styles and strategies. The sessions are organized as input sessions and reflective micro-teaching components. Besides these, it is intended that instructors feel attached to their profession and their new institution. At the end of the program, instructors give feedback so that the program can be modified accordingly at regular intervals.

6.2.1.2. Workshops and Presentations

As part of the in-service training programs, a number of workshops and presentations are conducted throughout the academic year by TTDU members, also by guest speakers and instructors at Başkent University. The topics of these sessions are determined according to the feedback/data collected from instructors by several means such as questionnaires, meetings and data gathered from classroom observations. These sessions shed a light to several aspects and components of teaching and learning like effective language teaching, classroom management as well as to issues of ongoing personal development of instructors. Instructors are autonomous in their decisions as to which sessions they are going to attend, however, they are required to attend at least four sessions in one academic year. The procedure for attending/delivering sessions is as follows:

- The instructors who volunteer to make workshops and presentations, inform TTDU at the beginning of the semester
- TTDU announces the sessions to take place monthly, which are to take place 2-3 times a week.
- Instructors sign in for the sessions they would like to attend (Appendix 29)
- Session leaders make necessary arrangements

6.2.1.3. Reflective Teaching Practice

Reflective teaching practices constitute an opportunity for instructors to help each other collect useful information that they cannot obtain on their own. Peer observations, video-coaching, team-teaching are among the fundamental activities that promote teacher collaboration, collegiality, self-awareness and critical reflection on one's own teaching.

Each term, instructors are paired by TTDU depending on varying parameters. Every instructor is expected to engage in one reflective teaching practice each term, focusing on a different aspect of classroom teaching. The type and focus of the practice and the tools provided by TTDU for data collation should be selected by mutual agreement. TTDU members are available for consultation and guidance whenever needed throughout the process. During the completion of the activities, pairs work together through a process of pre-observation, observation, and post-observation meetings, where instructors give each other constructive feedback.

6.2.1.4. Clinical Classroom Observations by TTDU Members

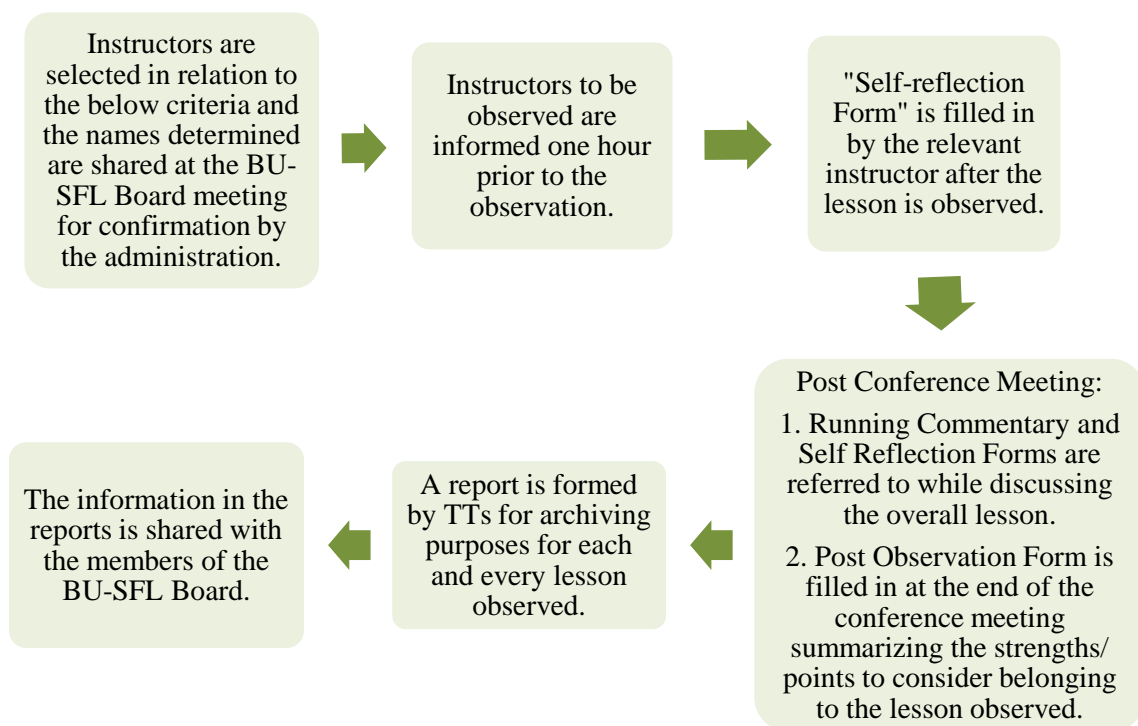

These observations done by TTDU members mainly intend to provide support for teachers in developing their teaching skills as required and to facilitate effective and quality teaching and learning. Teacher Training (TT) observations can have immediate practical benefits for individual teachers as well as long term benefits for the language program and the School/University as a whole.

TT observation procedure is as follows:

- TTs design an observation schedule each semester and conduct pre-announced or unannounced observations depending on the institutional and individual needs detected with the help of several sources.
- In general, each pre-announced observation has the following three phases:
 - Pre-observation meeting: The observer and the observee get together as scheduled, talk about the class profile in relation to their performance and students' learning behaviour. They go through the lesson plan and fill in the relevant form together. (Appendix 30)
 - Observation: TT visits the class planned, observes a 50 minute lesson, keeps up a running commentary. (Appendix 31)
 - After the lesson, the observee fills in the reflection form provided. (Appendix 32)
 - Post-observation meeting: The observee and TT talk about the lesson referring to the reflection form and fill in the relevant form. (Appendix 33) A further action plan is devised. Another TT observation is agreed upon if required.

The information regarding the observation is kept confidential. Please note that the unannounced TT observations follow a similar pattern except for Step 1 stated above and a more detailed pattern for such observations can be found below.

6.2.1.4.1. Procedure for Unannounced TT Observations

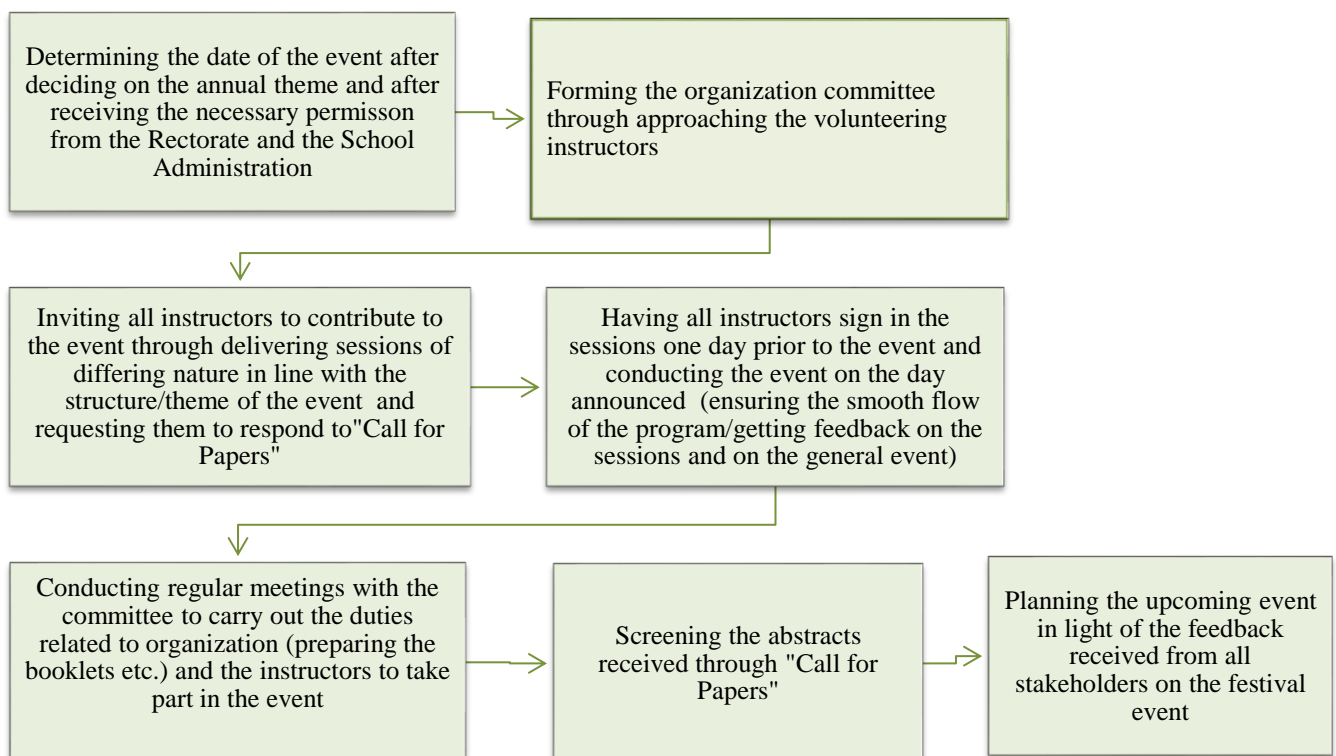

6.2.1.4.2 The Criteria for Unannounced TT Observations

- Newly recruited instructors having completed their Induction Program
- Instructors who have not been observed for 5 or more years
- Instructors who seem to perform below standards (according to several resources of feedback like learner evaluations)
- Instructors who have not been teaching for some time for different reasons (e.g. maternal leave)
- Instructors who have not taught a specific course for a long time/who are going to teach a particular course for the first time

6.2.1.5 End-of-Year Workshop Festival

Each academic year, an end-of-year workshop festival with a theme concentrating on an aspect of education; teaching and learning of English is organized by the TTDU and a committee, composed of a voluntary group of instructors at the School of Foreign Languages. This is an activity that aims to provide instructors with the opportunity to experience organizing a mini conference and giving presentations to their colleagues. In time, this activity is expected to gain a more collaborative dimension with more participants from other educational institutions. (see Appendix 34 for a recent FB form for the event) Details of the general scheme could be found below:

6.2.1.6. Attending National / International Conferences

This policy aims to promote consistency in approving attendance of instructors at national/international conferences, seminars and workshops. It also ensures that all educational and scientific events attended by instructors are directly related to their job functions and hence contribute to their professional development. All procedures concerning this matter align with Başkent University Rules and Regulations for Attending Scientific Meetings.

The procedure for attending educational events for the academics in the School of Foreign Languages is as follows:

- The instructor writes a petition (Appendix 35) and submits it to the relevant Unit Head
- The Head informs the Directorate about the organization of the make-up lessons or substitution
- The Directorate sends the petition to the Rectorate and informs the instructor about the notification
- The Instructor's expenses are covered by Başkent University with regard to the related regulation
- The Instructor attending these events may be asked to share his/her experiences with other colleagues

6.2.1.7. Attending Day-time Graduate Programs

In line with the University mission and vision, BU-SFL is an organization that fully supports life-long learning and professional development of all its staff. Bearing this in mind, it is believed that through creating and sustaining a learning environment for all its stakeholders, the School can become a place where everyone can contribute to their own development at the same time enhancing the intellectual capital of the institution. To this end, instructors and administrative personnel willing to take graduate courses e.g. as part of an M.A. program are requested to follow the below procedure:

- At the beginning of each Academic Term, relevant staff hand in their petitions (Appendix 36) to the Unit secretary.
- Petitions mentioned above state the time-off requested (this could be up to two half-days in a week)
- Petitions contain an appendix in the form of an official document taken from the universities where the graduate courses take place
- The appendix includes the timetable of the graduate courses to be attended with the autography of the relevant supervisor
- Petitions are submitted to the Unit Head to be evaluated at the Board Meeting.
- The staff are informed about the result of their petition and their working schedules are organized accordingly for the term.

6.3. BU-SFL PERFORMANCE APPRAISAL POLICY

BU-SFL gives particular importance to overcoming any kind of academic deficiency or inconvenience in order to enhance performance and thus professional development. To this end, a reasonable number of data sources are resorted to regularly to shed light on the evaluation and improvement of all staff as well as the practices carried out in TTDU.

Performance appraisal system builds on three data collection tools: Classroom Observation, Student Evaluations of Instructors and Başkent University Academic Performance Data Collection Tool (ABTA). Particularly the data of the first two sources are closely monitored as part of TTDU practices.

6.3.1. Classroom Observation

As mentioned earlier, classroom observations are organized and conducted as planned to improve the quality instruction. The procedure to collect and collate relevant data is as follows:

- TTs keep a record of the data gathered from classroom observations to be reported to the Directorate by the end of each term as well as at the Board Meetings held regularly.
- The observation data is interpreted by TTs in terms of three main criteria: strong points, areas to be reconsidered, and suggestions for improvement. (Appendix 33, 37)

6.3.2. Student Evaluations of Instructors

Student evaluations of instructors are considered as another valuable source of data to increase teaching performances of instructors. All procedures concerning this matter align with Başkent University Principles of Academic Performance Measurement and Evaluation System (see www.baskent.edu.tr/belgeler/mevzuat/yonerge/akademikolcme_yong_17.pdf?birim=101&menu_id=51 for details). The related procedure is as follows:

- Students evaluate the instructional practices by the end of each semester through an online questionnaire
- The classroom average is taken into consideration when placing an instructor under a category stating performance in numerical form

(see www.baskent.edu.tr/belgeler/mevzuat/yonerge/akademikolcme_yong_17.pdf?birim=101&menu_id=51 for details).

6.3.3. BU Academic Performance Data Collection Tool (ABTA)

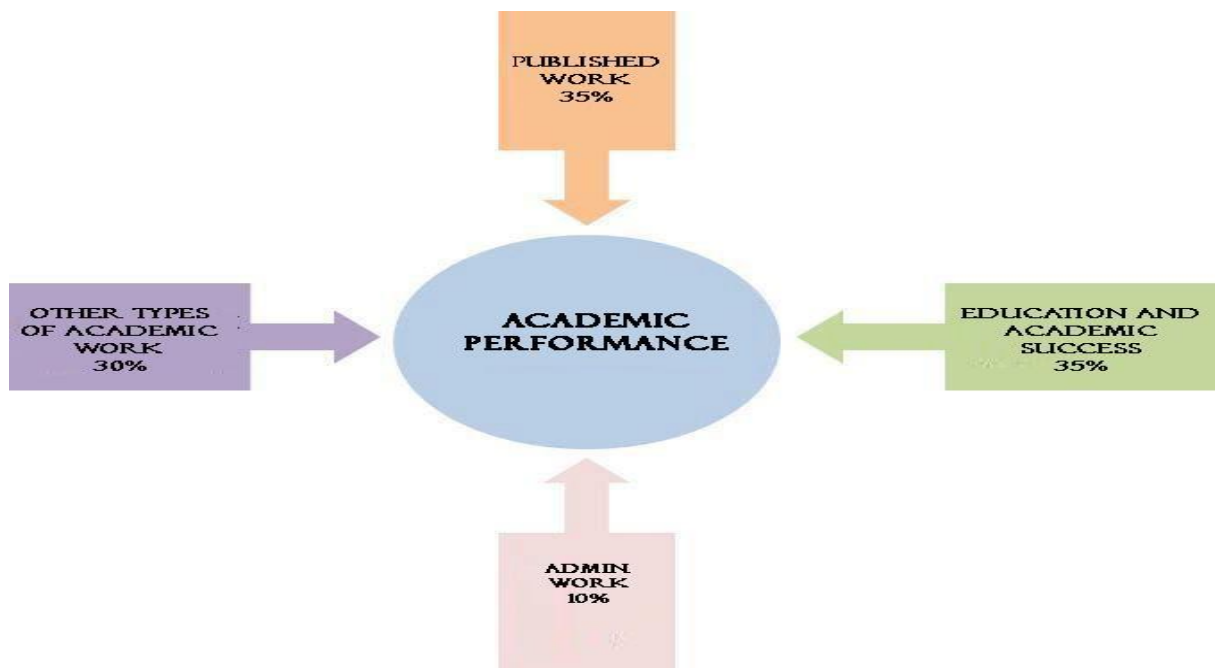

ABTA serves as an online system that provides performance data entry. In addition to the above-mentioned data (see 7. d. 1. 1, 7.d.1.2), all the academic work and academic/administrative duties of the faculty are recorded on this system for institutional purposes for future reference. Here all information is gathered under specified categories within academic units (schools, faculties, institutions, and so on) as well as under those of the university in a greater extent.

The BU-SFL's instructors are evaluated through ABTA in an academic year in relation to certain practices such as published work, administrative work, education and academic success, other types of academic work. The components to enter and record data on the system can be found on www.baskent.edu.tr/belgeler/mevzuat/yonerge/akademikolcme_yong_17.pdf?birim=101&menu_id=51

The BU-SFL's instructors who perform with scores within the top performance category during a particular period are given a financial reward by the Rectorate. Below, the respective categories and scores appointed specifically for the School of Foreign Languages can be found. The scores are collected and recorded through the aforementioned tool designed for Academic Performance Evaluation at the University.

Academic Performance Evaluation at Başkent University

As has been mentioned beforehand, The BU-SFL's instructors are evaluated through ABTA in a different manner, which creates an opportunity for them to be monitored by their own academic and administrative operations specifically within an academic year. This creates equity in the university and a higher chance to access the financial reward mentioned above. The relevant scaling system is below.

Instructor Performance Scales at the BU-SFL

Performance Score	Level of Performance
141 + points	Category 1
131-140 points	Category 2
121-130 points	Category 3
111-120 points	Category 4
101-110 points	Category 5
81-100 points	Category 6
0-80 points	Category 7

6.4. BU-SFL RECRUITMENT POLICY

6.4.1. Teaching Staff

The BU-SFL recruits Language Instructors, Doctor Faculty Members and Assistant Professors in accordance with the legislation and regulations of the Council of Higher Education of Turkey (YÖK). The academic staff recruitment procedures differ in three ways as for permanent, foreign and contracted/part time staff. Appointment procedures comply with the Higher Education Law issued 2547.

6.4.1.2. Full-time Teaching Staff

The BU-SFL Directorate determines the number of positions for permanent staff at the beginning or, if necessary, in the middle of the semester and sends an official letter to the Secretary General. The Secretary General transfers the staff request to the Personnel Department for the approval of the Rector. If the approval is granted by the Rector, the Personnel Department informs the BU-SFL Foreign Languages about the approval. Then the staff vacancy is announced on the related web page of the Council of Higher Education and applications are received.

- Preliminary selection of the applicants: According to Article 10 of the above mentioned Regulation, the examination jury makes a preliminary selection. The jury invites the candidates on the short list which includes ten times the number of vacancy for language instructors by taking 40% of the ALES test (Academic Personnel and Post Graduate Education Entrance Exam) score and 60% of the YDS (Language Proficiency Exam) into consideration within the scope of the fourth clause of Article 6 of the Regulation mentioned above. Short-listed candidates, then, take entrance exams.
- Entrance exams are conducted in written and oral forms to measure the level of knowledge about the declared field by the jury specified in the Regulation mentioned above. The applicants' achievement score is calculated by taking the arithmetic average of the oral and written exams.

Exam results are announced on the web page indicated in the vacancy announcement. Those who score less than 60 points after the oral exam are considered unsuccessful and cannot progress to the evaluation stage.

- Evaluation: In accordance with Article 12 of the aforesaid Regulation, the exam jury evaluates the exam.
- Candidates who are entitled to be appointed are announced on the basis of their achievement score in accordance with Article 13 of the Regulation. A substitute candidate list is also announced
- Appointment procedure is initiated by the Personnel Department upon the approval of the Rectorate. A copy of the appointment letter is also sent to the BU-SFL.
- Newly appointed staff are invited to the Personnel Department for the preparation of the required documents, and the work contract and SGK (Social Security Institution) transactions are carried out
- After the two months trial period, the staff are employed permanently with an indefinite term contract.

6.4.1.3. Part Time Teaching Staff

Resumes of candidates who have applied the BU-SFL in person or via e-mail are evaluated by the BU-SFL Board. The applicants must have at least a bachelor's degree, preferably a master's degree on the field to be appointed. If there is an unfilled position, they are called for an interview by the BU-SFL Board members. After the evaluation of their teaching experience, references, and interview performance, the appointment procedures are initiated according to the Higher Education Law No. 2547 and the related articles of the Labor Law No. 4857., upon the Rector's approval. If the appointed staff are invited to the Personnel Department for the preparation of documents, the work contract and SGK transactions are carried out.

6.4.1.4. Foreign Nationals

Resumes of foreign nationals who have applied the BU-SFL in person or via e-mail are evaluated by the BU-SFL Board. The applicants must have at least a bachelor's degree, preferably a master's degree on the field to be appointed. They are, then, appointed with the recommendation of the BU-SFL Administrative Board upon the Rector's approval. Appointment procedures are made according to Article 34 of the Higher Education Law No. 2547. The Ministry of Interior is informed through the Higher Education Board of the appointment in order for the staff to receive work and residence permit. After the two months trial period, the staff are employed permanently with an indefinite term contract. The Council of Higher Education is annually informed of the extension of the work period.

6.4.2. Support Staff

The recruitment procedures are carried out by the Personnel Department with the approval of the Rector's Office.

6.4.3. Staff Rights

- Paid leaves are given to the staff in case of paternity, marriage, maternity, and death of a family member.
- Staff are entitled to use paid annual leaves, periods of which are specified by the Labor Law No. 4857.
- Unpaid leaves can be granted when applied by the staff and if approved by the BU-SFL Administrative Board. The leaves may include the postpartum leaves and those for special reasons.
- Hourly leave of absence from work can also be asked by the staff. The decision is at the immediate supervisor's discretion.
- The severance pay rights concerning the resignation due to marriage, military service and retirement are carried out within the framework of the Labor Law No. 4857.
- In the event of resignation, the provisions of the employment contract of the employee and the Labor Law No. 4857 are taken into consideration.

6.5. BU-SFL COMPLAINTS POLICY

6.5.1. Teaching Staff

BU-SFL gives particular importance to teaching staff's views and constructive criticism. Instructors can raise any issue with their immediate supervisors. If they have a specific complaint, they may bring it informally for a quicker resolution or write a petition to be submitted to the Directorate. If the issue is critical, an investigation is launched. Based on the university's discipline regulation, evidence is collected and reviewed; and witnesses, if any, are listened to. A final decision is made on the basis of this regulation.

Another option to be followed may be to fill in the Complaints and Suggestion Form accessible on the BU-SFL website or use the QR code pinned on the bulletin boards that direct them to the website. These forms can be sent anonymously or with personal information if a quicker response is asked by the applicant. The complaints and the feedback are evaluated by the Directorate and the outcome is communicated to the related party.

The complaint procedure is shown below:

6.5.2. Support Staff

Support staff members of the BU-SFL are also encouraged to share their ideas, requests or complaints formally or informally. If they submit their requests or complaints in writing to the Directorate, a formal complaint procedure is implemented according to the related disciplinary regulations.

6.6. BU-SFL LEARNER TRAINING POLICY

The BU-SFL aims to make sure that students are given effective guidance and training before academic years start. Therefore, at the beginning of every academic year, three orientation programs are offered to our new students:

The first orientation program is called “Introduction to University Life”, being implemented university-wide. It has been designed by the university senior management as a compulsory course and takes three days. This orientation program helps new students become familiar with their departments and social, cultural, health, and sports facilities available to them in the campus. New students can adjust quickly to their new environment and the university life by taking place in the activities organized. The program also informs students about information services, student affairs, security and library services. In addition to these events, concerts and social activities are organized to make students feel motivated. Some of the points relating this program are as follows:

- This three-day program starts with a general opening at the theatre with the participation of all new students
- To be successful, students are required to follow the activities planned and shown in the timetables

- Grading is done properly and is based on the number of participation in the events
- Students receive letter grades at the end of the program according to their attendance at the specified events
- Students who take F from the course have to repeat this course the following year

The second orientation which is carried out at the School of Foreign Languages focuses mainly on the language programs offered. Throughout this orientation program, the BU-SFL attaches great importance to raising students' awareness of the importance of knowing a foreign language for their academic and social purposes. Also, students are informed about all the academic details of their units. They meet their instructors, get syllabuses and student's handbooks and become familiar with the procedures for exams, assessments, assignments, and attendance. In this way, new students become acquainted with the courses, materials and each other before the implementation of the program. During this orientation period, students are especially familiarized with the followings:

- Programs offered
- Key principles for teaching and learning
- The timetables and important dates
- Teaching materials used and procedures for getting them
- Assessment tools and related procedures.

Apart from this orientation program; throughout the academic year, our students are free to consult the instructors who are appointed at the beginning of each academic semester during designated days and hours. Furthermore, students can consult the administration and assigned instructors on condition that they need any assistance regarding the program.

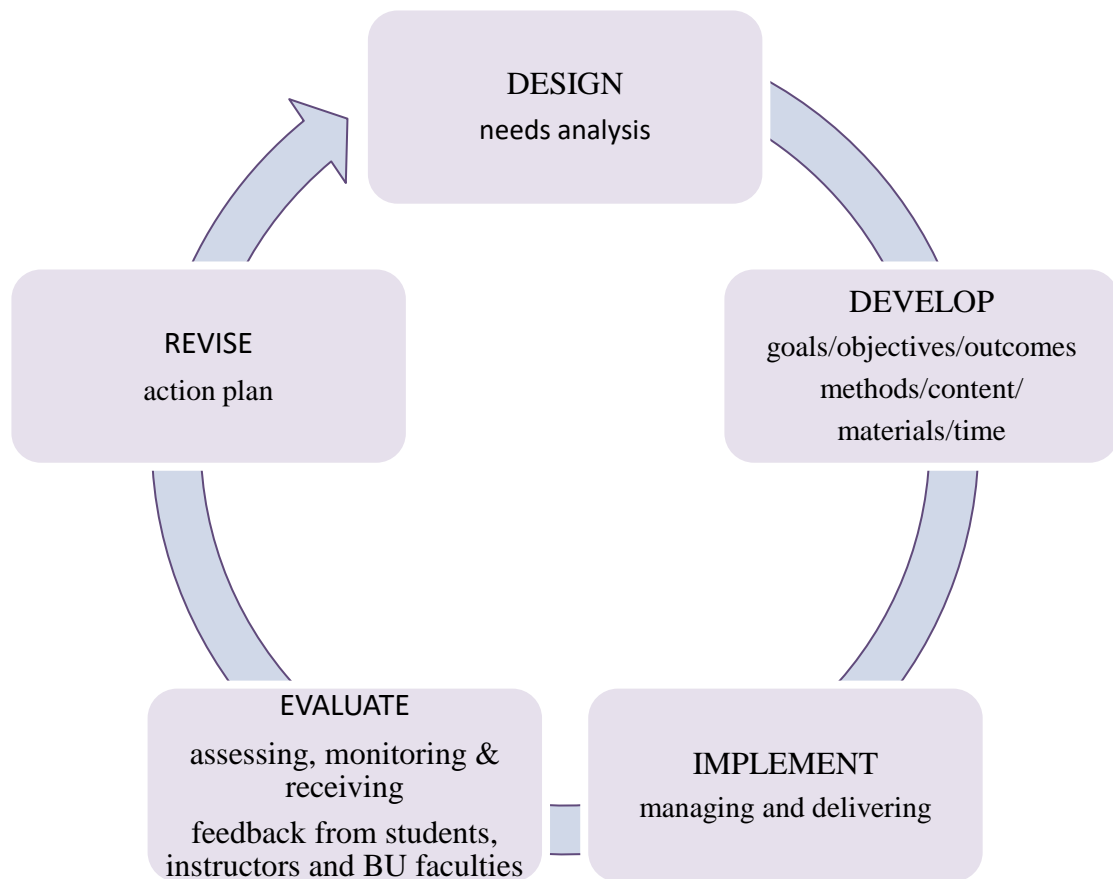

6.7 BU-SFL CURRICULUM POLICY

The main curriculum policy of the BU-SFL is to align the educational programs with the mission and vision of the university. It aims to have the learners gain necessary skills and knowledge that they need to use the target language efficiently. To reach this objective, the BU-SFL's Curriculum Development Unit (CDU) makes sure that the following instructional principles are taken into consideration in the language programs (Appendix 16):

- to enable the learners to improve the necessary linguistic knowledge and skills so that they will be able to use the target language in daily, academic and professional life and in a learning environment for the use of four language skills – reading, listening, writing and speaking,
- to have the learners gain self-confidence and motivation they will need while learning the target language,
- to provide the learners with effective studying strategies and language learning abilities so that they will be trained as individuals who are responsible for their own learning,

- to provide a positive learning environment where the learners take an active role and are in interaction with their peers and teachers in language learning process,
- to familiarize the learners with the culture of the target language and broaden their horizons
- to achieve high level learning outcomes such as problem solving, creative and critical thinking in the language learning process,
- to enable the learners to use English as a tool to carry out the tasks and responsibilities,
- to encourage the learners to have knowledge of the world through self discovery,

At the BU-SFL, curriculum development follows a cyclical process which encompasses different stages in order for the continuous improvement in language instruction.

The curriculum cycle starts with a needs analysis process in which students, instructors, and other faculties at Başkent University participate during the design of a language curriculum. According to the assessment conducted in the light of the resulting needs, overall goals, specific objectives, student learning outcomes, methods, and content are determined, and course materials are developed. The programs considering the features and needs of the particular departments are documented, and the documents are distributed to the instructors at the beginning of each academic year. In accordance with the feedback received from the instructors in the meetings held throughout the academic year and from the students, necessary modifications are made to the curriculum by the curriculum development subcommittees.

The appropriateness of the supplementary course materials prepared by the CDU subcommittees and instructors teaching the courses is checked. Feedback with regard to the congruence between the examinations prepared throughout the academic year and the programs in terms of course objectives, student learning outcomes, content, scope, and level is continuously provided. At the end of each academic semester, programs are evaluated by the instructors and students. The results of the program evaluation are reported, and additional course materials, personnel and training needs for the following term are identified. Furthermore, the preparations and practices related to the activities to be conducted in accordance with summer term action plans are carried out and supervised. Sources of feedback affecting the decision-making process in the CDU are learners, instructors (Appendix 17,18), the other academic units of the BU-SFL and the University.

The design, implementation, evaluation, and ongoing improvement of the BU-SFL's language educational programs are carried out by the Curriculum Development Unit, main responsibilities of which include:

- carrying out needs analysis and designing courses, as well as making systematic revisions in the curricula of English Preparatory Unit, Academic English Unit, and Modern Languages Unit
- contributing to the provision of quality instructional materials to students and instructors by:
 - selecting materials from currently available sources
 - producing materials to meet the course objectives and students' learning needs
 - revising, adding, developing materials
 - distributing materials to relevant groups and classes
- acting as a communication channel by:
 - supplying information and feedback to students and instructors on all issues related to curriculum
 - collecting feedbacks, comments, opinions, criticisms, evaluations of students and instructors
 - being in contact with other units such as testing, teacher training and development to maintain effective communication

The CDU conducts a needs assessment procedure involving students, instructors and faculty members. After getting the results, the CDU defines goals and objectives and decides on the skills, sub-skills, functions, language, and content to focus on in the course designed. At material selection stage, it tries to select materials from currently available sources and to compensate for the shortcomings of the course book by some supplementary materials prepared by the curriculum development unit members. At the beginning of each academic year, each curriculum unit member responsible for a specific program prepares and distributes the syllabus to the instructors who will be teaching the course. The Course Syllabus includes specifically these:

- A general information about the name and code, level, course hours, classroom, prerequisites and co-requisites of the course
- A general information about the name, e-mail, office number, office phone, and office hours of the instructor
- Course Description
- Objectives
- Course materials
- Method of instruction
- Course policies (Attendance/Requirements, Assessment, Grading, Grading Scale)
- Weekly schedule

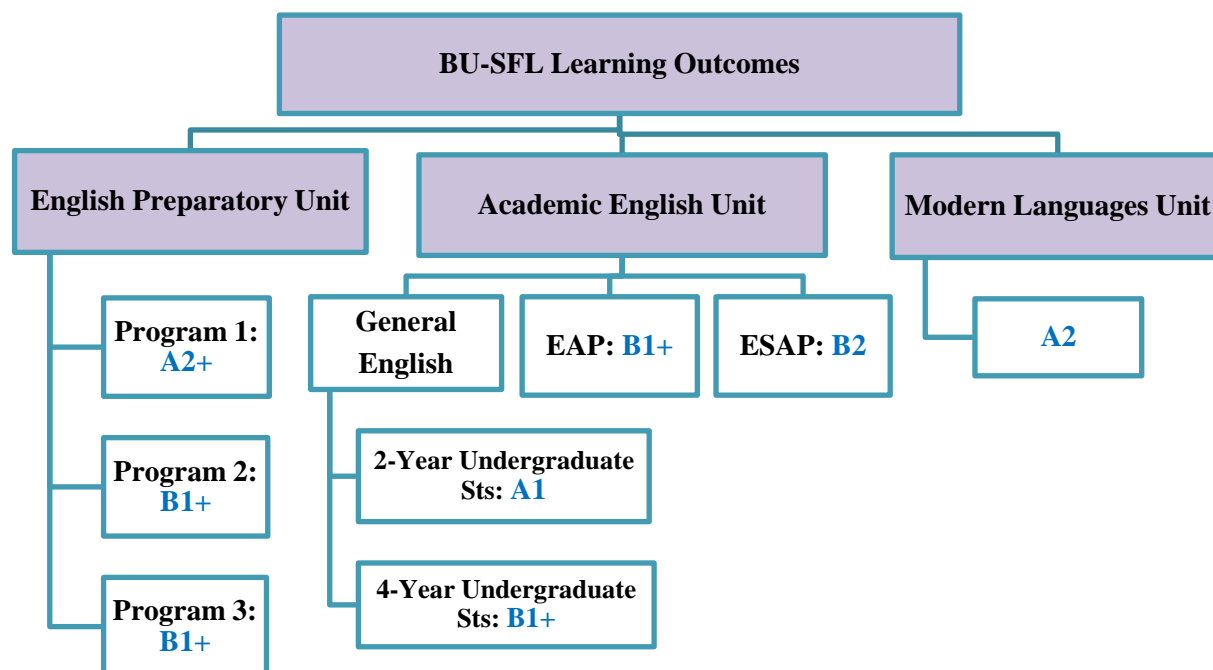

6.7.1. Teaching and Learning Materials

The main aim of the BU-SFL is to ensure that BU graduates of all academic programs of BU are equipped with language skills which will enable them to follow the literature in their fields of study and communicate effectively both in written and spoken modes. In line with this, the BU-SFL uses a variety of materials such as course books, workbooks, online materials and supplementary materials in order to achieve the learning outcomes. Different books obtained through publishers and all supplementary materials prepared by Curriculum Development Unit Members are used during instructional activities. Extra printed and online resources such as graded readers and videos, to be used at different levels, both in and outside the classroom, are also parts of our teaching materials portfolio.

The BU-SFL also believes that foreign language learning should not be limited to the classroom instruction. We aim to encourage blended learning method—the combination of traditional face-to-face learning systems with computer based technologies. For example, in the English preparatory program, students use online resources and develop their language skills by becoming autonomous learners.

6.7.2. Learning Objectives and Outcomes

The BU-SFL programs set realistic learning outcomes compatible with the GSE and CFR. The overview of the learning outcomes is as follows:

6.8. BU-SFL ASSESSMENT POLICY

The aim of the BU-SFL assessment policy is to ensure that assessment is used as a tool to provide fair and equitable assessment practices, support curriculum planning, promote student learning and trace students' progress in their language learning experience. The assessment policy applies to all coursework programs offered by the BU-SFL and all staff undertaking teaching and assessment.

At the BU-SFL there is not only testing for assessing learner outcomes but also testing for learning. Thus, a variety of assessment tools are constructed and administered to serve different purposes in different programs. These include progress tests, achievement tests, placement tests and proficiency exams.

The BU-SFL has a Test Development Unit, which is responsible for the implementation of the assessment policy. The TDU designs, administers, evaluates, and improves the overall assessment activities and procedures at the BU-SFL language programs.

6.8.1. Assessment Overview at the English Preparatory Program

At the BU-SFL English Preparatory Program, student performance is assessed by means of a variety of instruments used in each semester: progress tests, quizzes, a portfolio, online tasks and teacher's evaluation grade (TEG). A score obtained from each constitutes a student's overall score.

For Program 1, there are four progress tests each semester. Students are given a progress test every month and a quiz every two weeks. For Program 2, three progress tests are given during a semester and an English Proficiency Exam at the end of the semester. All other assessment components are the same as Program 1. The assessment of Program 3 is carried out by means of three progress tests, three quizzes, a portfolio, online component of the book and a TEG.

Once the progress tests and quizzes are marked, the results are announced in classes by the instructors so that students receive feedback on the objectives they couldn't achieve in the exams. This is especially done to reinforce their learning in those areas; in other words, the objective of testing for learning is fulfilled. While quizzes (generally uninformed) are given to assess learner outcomes in specific objectives, progress tests are more comprehensive. They include a larger group of objectives in addition to testing reading, writing, listening and speaking skills.

As for portfolios, students are expected to complete three tasks every semester. These portfolios include mainly the writing components in the syllabus and student progress in a given task is assessed. In order to help students develop their reading skills, graded readers are included in the curriculum. These readers are not studied in the classroom in any way but students' reflections on these readers are blended with writing portfolio tasks. All portfolio tasks students complete are stored as soft copies for further reference and appeals by the TDU.

Student learning is reinforced by means of the online component of the course book. Students are expected to complete the tasks assigned for each unit in the online component and thus they are assigned a score for the tasks they complete. The final component from students obtain a score that is included in their overall assessment is Teacher's Evaluation Grade (TEG). Each student is given a TEG according to the criteria. (Appendix 19, 20)

6.8.2. BU-SFL English Proficiency Exam

The BU-SFL English Proficiency Exam (EPE) is a high-stakes test that aims to measure students' general language proficiency with regard to the learning outcomes defined by the GSE. Students who pass the exam qualify for studying in their departments and are considered to have a sufficient language proficiency to follow English medium instruction and academic resources in their fields of study. The EPE mainly consists of questions that measure reading, writing, listening, speaking skills and use of language in line with the GSE objectives.

The English Proficiency Exam is administered mainly three times a year: in September, January and June. The exam is administered to new students who enrol in the university in September and to students who complete Program 2 in January and June. Moreover, transfer students who enrol in the university sit the exam throughout the academic year. In order to pass, the EPE students in departments where the medium of instruction is partially English should get 60, students in departments where the medium of instruction is English should get 70, and students in the Faculty of Medicine or Dentistry, where the medium of instruction is English, should get 80 and at least 50% of the speaking section score in the EPE. These base scores are determined by a decision taken at the Başkent University Senate. The instruments included in the assessment design, their weightings, examples and different scenarios for the three different types of medium of instruction at EPU are explained in the table below.

BU-SFL ENGLISH PREP UNIT GENERAL ASSESSMENT DESIGN

PROGRAM 1

For all students, the achievement base score is 70 (seventy) points out of 100 (one hundred) points in Program 1.

STUDENT SEMESTER IN A SEMESTER
PT1	25
PT2	45
PT3 (SPEAKING ONLY)	20
PT4	45
QUIZ 1	10
QUIZ 2	10
QUIZ 3	10
QUIZ 4	10
PORTFOLIO	15
TEACHER' EVALUATION GRADE	5
ONLINE STUDY	5
TOTAL	200 POINTS
CONVERTED TOTAL	200/2=100 POINTS

Example: Deniz and Ali have the following scores:

	DENİZ	ALİ
PT1	15	10
PT2	35	30
PT3 (SPEAKING ONLY)	16	15
PT4	30	25
QUIZ 1	9	3
QUIZ 2	6	4

QUIZ 3	4	7
QUIZ 4	7	6
PORTFOLIO	10	10
TEACHER EVALUATION GRADE	5	5
ONLINE STUDY	5	5
TOTAL	142	120
CONVERTED TOTAL	142/2=71POINTS	120/2=60 POINTS

In this case, as Deniz's semester average 71 is above the achievement base score 70, she has completed PROGRAM 1 successfully and will continue with PROGRAM 2.

Ali's semester average 60, on the other hand, is below the achievement base score 70, he has not completed PROGRAM 1 successfully and will repeat PROGRAM 1.

Students are allowed to take make- up exams only for PTs and the Proficiency Exam provided that they bring a valid medical report.

PROGRAM 2

To be eligible for the Proficiency Exam in Program 2, ALL students must have a semester average of at least 60 (sixty) out of 100 (one hundred), otherwise they will not be able to take the Proficiency Exam and will have to repeat Program 2.

For those whose semester average is at least 60;

30% of the semester average and 70% of the Proficiency Exam score are added. According to this assessment design, the achievement base score for

- departments where the medium of instruction is partly English (%30) is: 60
- departments where the medium of instruction is English is: 70
- the Faculty of Medicine and Dentistry is: 80 - on the condition that the student should get at least 50% of the speaking score in the Proficiency Exam.

STUDENT ASSESSMENT IN A SEMESTRE
PT1	40
PT2	50
PT3 (SPEAKING SECTION INCLUDED)	45

QUIZ 1	10
QUIZ 2	10
QUIZ 3	10
QUIZ 4	10
PORTFOLIO	15
TEACHER' EVALUATION GRADE	5
ONLINE STUDY	5
TOTAL	200 POINTS
CONVERTED TOTAL	200/2=100 POINTS

Example:

Ayşe has the following scores:

PT1	35
PT2	42
PT3 (SPEAKING SECTION INCLUDED)	33
QUIZ 1	7
QUIZ 2	6
QUIZ 3	8
QUIZ 4	10
PORTFOLIO	15
TEACHER'S EVALUATION GRADE	5
ONLINE STUDY	5
TOTAL	166 POINTS
CONVERTED TOTAL	166/2=83 POINTS

As Ayşe's semester average 83, is above the achievement base score 60, she is able to take the Proficiency Exam and assuming that she gets 80 in the Proficiency Exam:

30% of Ayşe's semester average 83 and 70% of her Proficiency Exam score 80 are added:

$$\frac{83 \times 30}{100} + \frac{80 \times 70}{100} = 80,9$$

According to this result,

1. If Ayşe is enrolled in a programme where the medium of instruction is partly English (%30), the achievement base score is 60 out of 100. This means she has completed Program 2 successfully and will continue with her enrolled program.

2. If Ayşe is enrolled in a program where the medium of instruction is English, the achievement base score is 70 out of 100. This means she has completed Program 2 successfully and will continue with her enrolled program.

3. If Ayşe is enrolled in the Faculty of Medicine or Dentistry, the achievement base score is 80 out of 100. In that case, if Ayşe gets 50% of the speaking section score in the Proficiency Exam, she could continue with her enrolled program. However, if she gets less than 50% of the speaking section score in the Proficiency Exam, she has to repeat Program 2 even if her overall score is above the achievement base score.

Types of Scoring and Bringing Scores Together

In the English Prep Unit, there are two types of scoring in exams administered throughout the year: machine-scored and hand-scored. In exams containing multiple choice items, answers are coded on optic answer sheets, which are then machine scored in the IT department. On the other hand, exams containing short-answer, open-ended and production type questions etc. are hand-scored by instructors.

After the exams are graded by instructors, the scores are entered in student reports. The Test Development Unit then randomly selects 3 exam papers to ensure that the calculation/ grading is done correctly. Then the student report cards collected by the TDU are transferred to the SFL-Educational Planner. The Educational Planner copies the scores onto Excel. If there is a writing section or a speaking section in the exam, which is scored by the instructors, the writing/speaking scores of each student are transferred to the Excel as well. All scores obtained from exams are entered in the data base managed by the Educational Planner and an overall score for each student is calculated. At this point, all data is double-checked to ensure correct entry.

The Testing Unit again randomly selects 3 exam papers to ensure that the calculation/grading is carried out correctly.

6.8.3. Assessment Overview at the Academic English Program

The courses at the Academic English Unit generally have a midterm exam, a final exam, and a teacher's evaluation grade component in the evaluation process throughout each semester of the academic year. Some courses also have a presentation exam component. Midterm exams are administered at the end of the 8th week of the term, whereas, the final exams are given once the semester is over.

General English (GE) and English for Academic Purposes (EAP) courses have Exemption exams at the beginning of the academic year. However, there are no exemption exams for English for Specific and Academic Purposes (ESAP) courses.

*The departments where the medium of instruction is English have no Exemption Exams.

Similar to the English Prep Unit, in the Academic English Unit, Midterm and Final exam scores in addition to TEG and presentation scores are entered in student report cards by instructors. Then the student report cards are submitted to the SFL-Educational Planner. The Educational Planner copies the scores onto an Excel sheet in the SFL-database. The program (Excel) calculates an overall score for each student and each student's score is checked to avoid miscalculations. Meanwhile, TDU randomly selects exam papers to ensure that the calculation/grading is done correctly. Finally, a letter grade that constitutes a score is assigned to each student by the instructors in the BU online system (BUOBS).

6.8.4. Assessment Overview at Modern Languages Unit

Midterm exams and finals are designed individually by each instructor according to the course objectives defined. Thus; the question types may differ among different language courses but basically, reading, writing, listening and speaking skills in addition to language use are tested in all exams administered in the Modern Languages Unit. Midterm exams are administered during the 8th week of the term, whereas, the finals are given at week16 or the end of the term. Students are given a quiz one or two weeks prior to midterm and final exams in order to assess students' knowledge of the target language. The course instructor decides on the day the quiz is given. When assigning the final grade of the student, the instructor gives a Teachers Evaluation Grade (TEG) which accounts for % 10 of the total grade. The TEG is assigned by considering the students classroom participation and homework completed through the term. Assessment Design at the MLU is as follows:

MODERN LANGUAGES UNIT ASSESSMENT DESIGN

COURSE OFFERED	MIDTERM EXAM	QUIZZES	TEACHER'S EVALUATION GRADE	FINAL EXAM
ARABIC AZERBAIJANESE CHINESE FRENCH GERMAN ITALIAN RUSSIAN SPANISH	%30	2x Quizzes: Each %5	In-class Participation/ Homework: %10	% 50

Exams at SFL-Modern Languages Unit are hand-scored by instructors. At the end of each term, all scores obtained from the Midterm and Final exams, two quiz scores and TEG are calculated by the instructor and a final grade is assigned to each student. The final grade is then entered in the BU online database (BUOBS) by each instructor. The final grade is saved in the system until the grades are announced by the Student Affairs according to a date predetermined and announced in the academic calendar.

6.8.5. Exam Planning and Preparation

6.8.5.1. Planning the Exam Content and Mechanics

The weighting and the skills the exam should measure in alignment with course content and course objectives are determined by the Head of TDU, Unit Test Coordinator, TDU member(s) and the Unit Head upon approval of the BU-SFL Board. Ex: Midterm:40 points, Final:50 points, Presentation:5 points, TEG:5 points, etc.

The exam dates, time and venues are determined by the Head of TDU and Unit Test Coordinator and Unit Head. They are announced by the Head of TDU on billboards, by emails and in meetings upon approval of the BU-SFL Board.

The exam dates and time are sent to the faculties and the exam announcements are placed on the SFL web page by the Head of TDU or Unit Test Coordinator by contacting the communications coordinator.

6.8.5.2. Feedback Process of Exams and Getting Ready for Duplication

The steps below are applied to Progress tests, quizzes, Placement-Proficiency Exams in addition to the Summer School Exams in the Prep TDU and all Midterms, Finals, Make-Ups, Exemption Exams and Single-Course Exams in the Academic English TDU as well.

Head of TDU shares the Operation Plan with TDU members.

Head of TDU/ Unit Test Coordinator proofreads the First Draft of the exam, makes the necessary corrections, gives feedback to TDU members and offers suggestions for improvement.

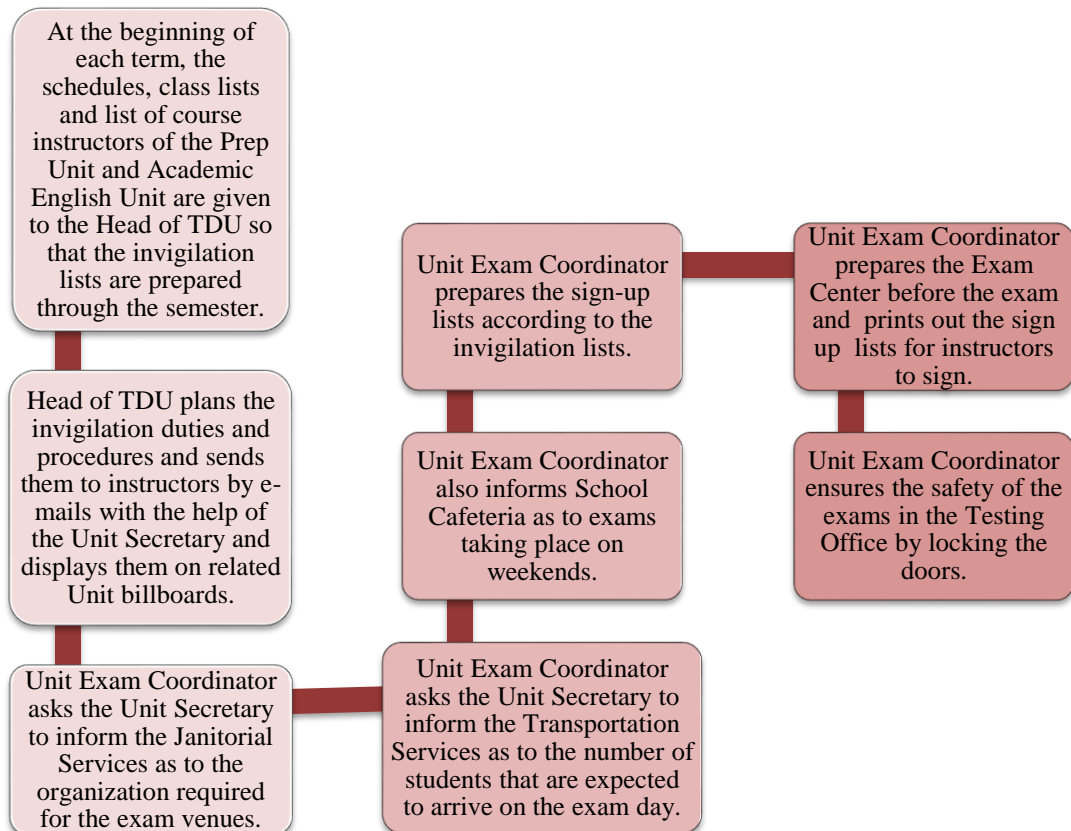

The Second Draft of the exam is proofread to check whether the necessary alterations have been made.

TDU members get feedback from CDU as for the internal verification of the exam.

The Final Draft of the exam approved by the Unit Heads and Head of TDU/Unit Test Coordinator is sent to be duplicated in the B.U Exam Photocopy Center with TDU members.

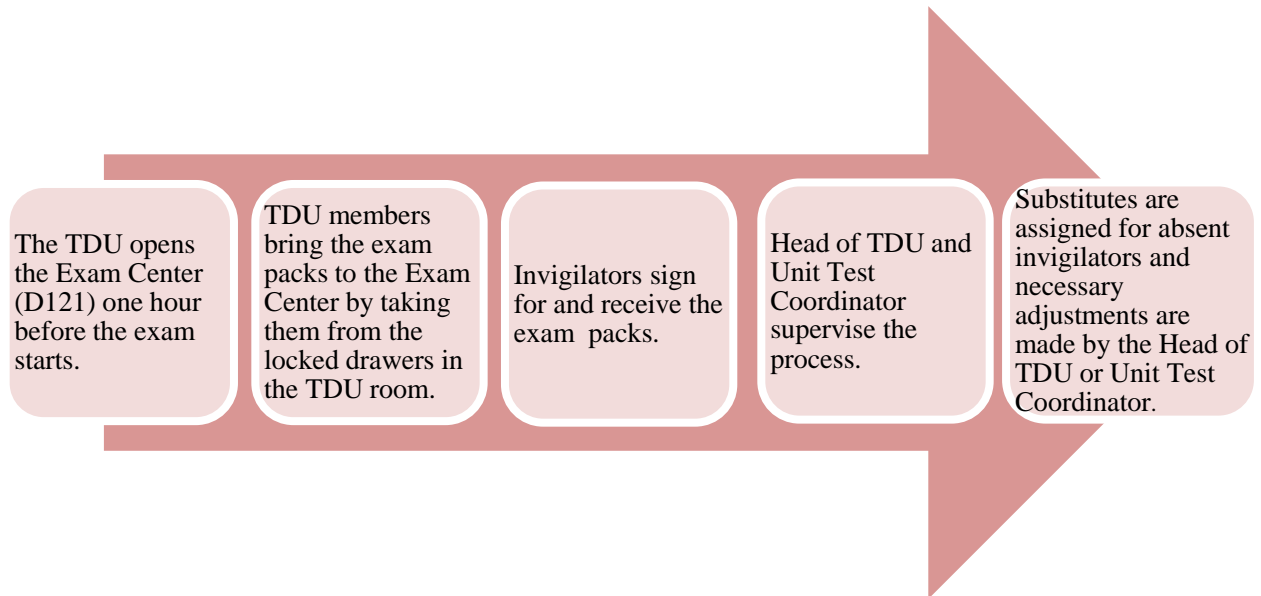

The Final Draft must be sealed with the TDU seal by the Head of TDU before duplication.

6.8.6. Coordinating and Organizing the Exam

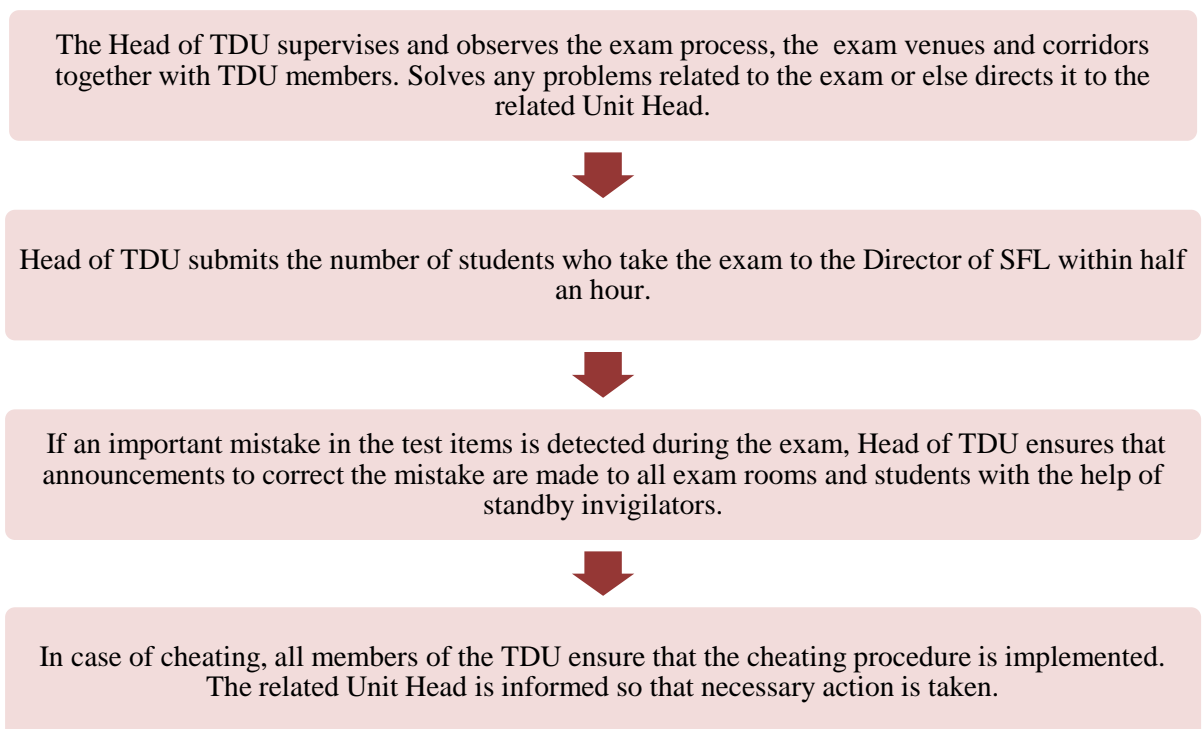

6.8.7. Exam Administration Process

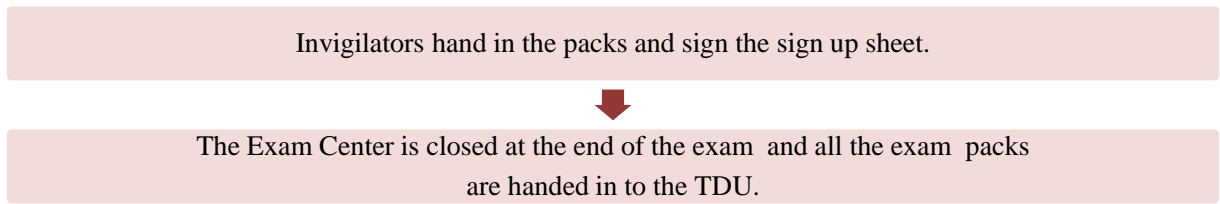

6.8.7.1. One hour before the exam

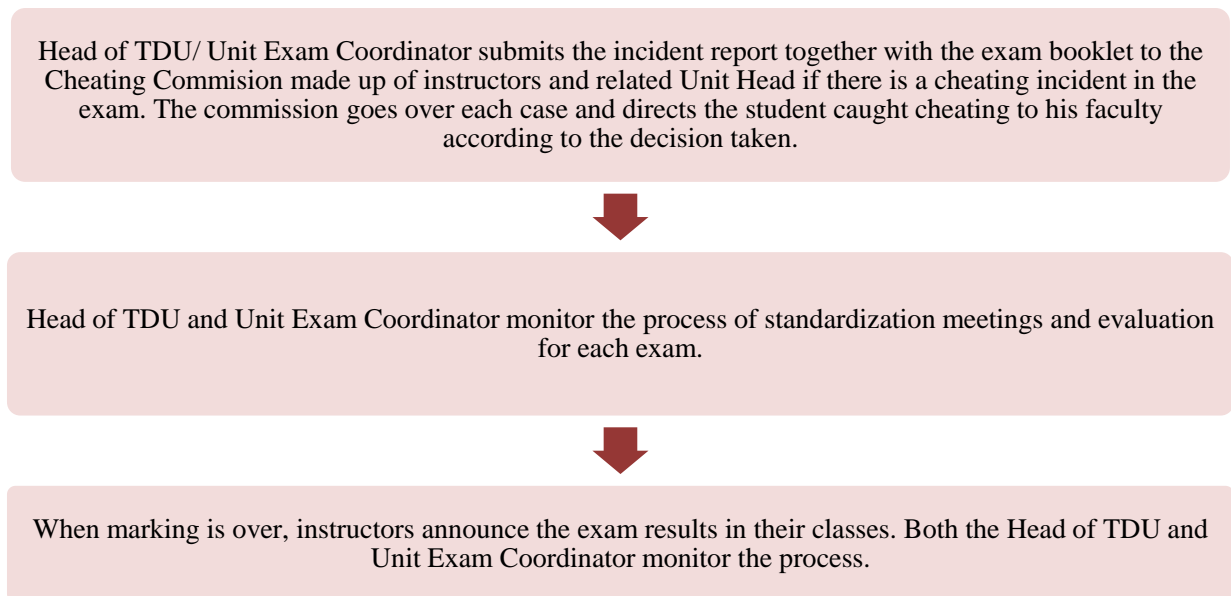

6.8.7.2. During the Exam

6.8.7.3. End of the Exam

6.8.7.4. After the exam

In all Placement and Proficiency Exams, Head of TDU/ Unit Exam Coordinator ensures that the results are announced on the BUOBS portal, or by the Student Affairs and Faculties/Institutes once they are approved by all the stakeholders (TDU, Head of Prep Unit, Head of SFL, Director of SFL and finally the Rectorate).

Once the exam results are announced, the process of appeals start. The appeals are re-evaluated and if necessary, alterations are made by the TDU members. The Appeals Form is filled in for each appeal regardless of whether there is an alteration on the score or not. This form is signed and approved by the Head of TDU and Unit Exam Coordinator.

Head of TDU checks and submits the payment lists to the Director of SFL. These approved lists are sent to the Accounting Unit of BU before the 20th of every month by the Unit Secretary.

6.8.8. Reliability

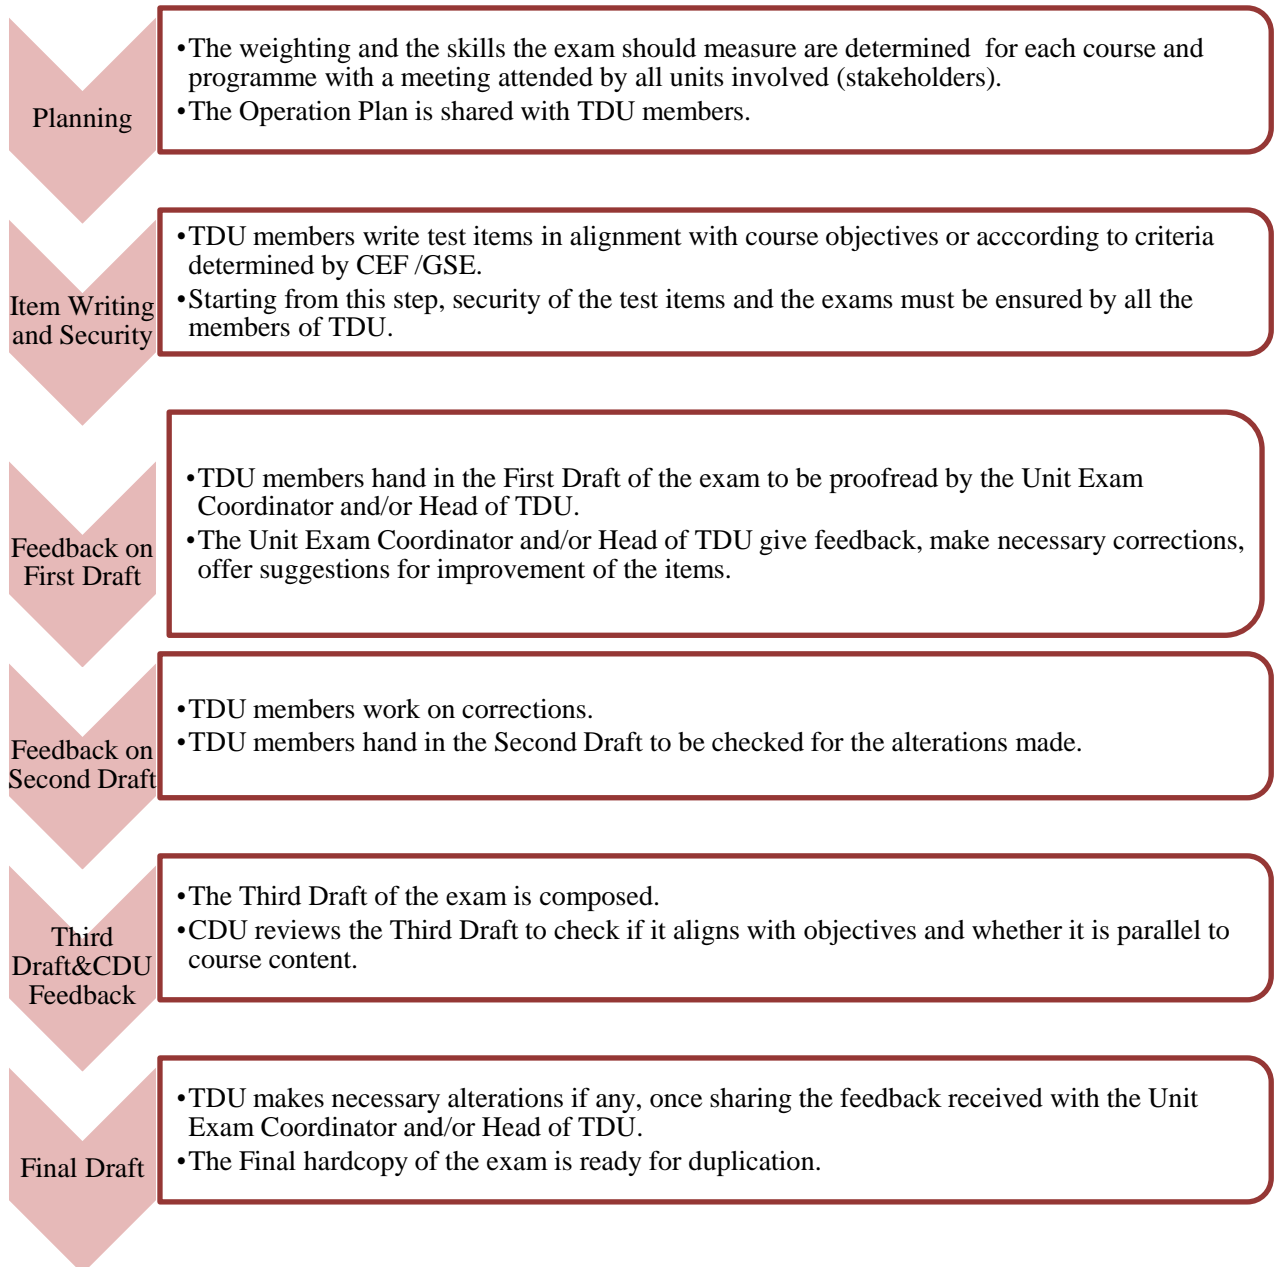

Tests at the BU-SFL determine whether students pass or fail or whether they are eligible to pass to their departments once displaying their language proficiency. Since such important decisions are taken as a result of the exams administered, it is very important for the instruments to be reliable. Therefore, in order to say that the scores obtained from exams at the SFL are consistent; in other words, reliable, test construction goes through a lengthy process not only to ensure the internal consistency which involves using items that permit objective scoring, reviewing items, familiarizing students with test content and format by giving guidelines, but also to guarantee interrater reliability such as training raters and conducting standardization meetings and using multiple raters and detailed rubrics especially for scoring subjective items (such as writing or speaking components.)

6.8.9. Validity

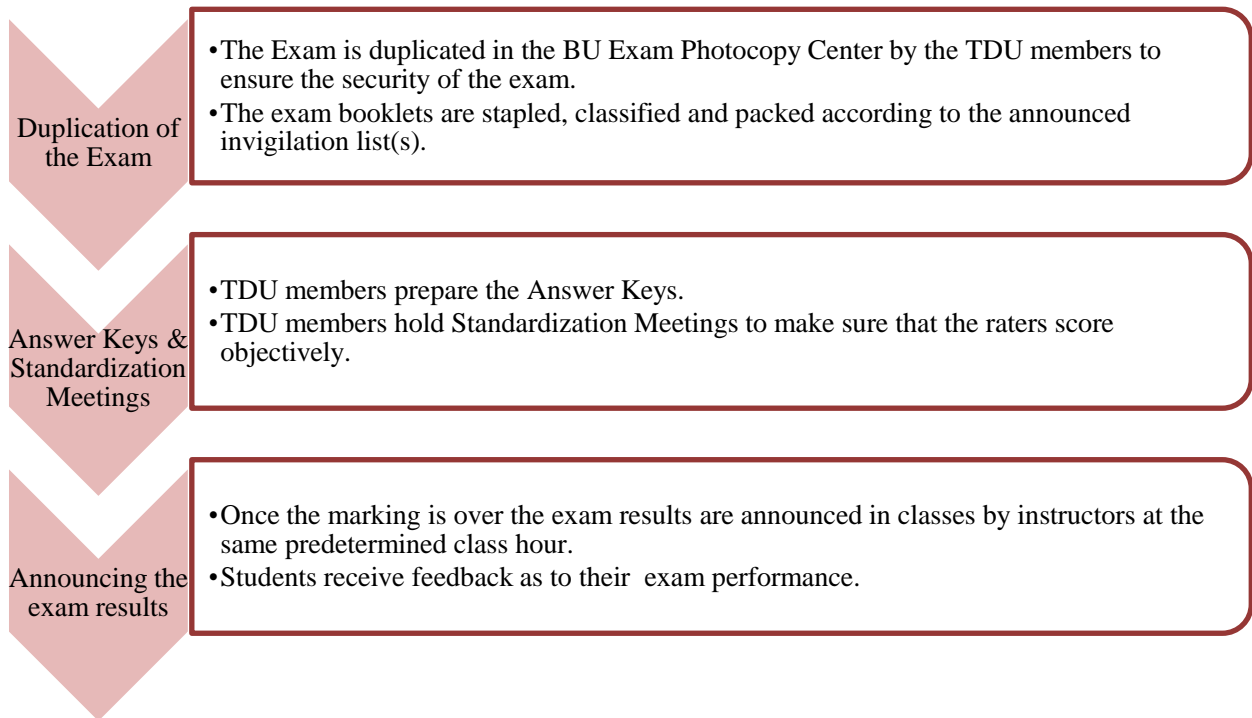

If an exam measures what it aims to measure then it is considered to be valid. In order to achieve validity, progress tests at the BU-SFL are in alignment with course objectives. This is achieved by constructing the exams parallel to the objectives of the course and by using a table of specifications. Thus, the exams measure what they claim to measure and are; therefore, considered to be valid. As for constructing the BU English Proficiency Exam, the criteria of Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) and more recently the Global Scale of English (GSE) are taken into consideration. GSE is a revised and more detailed version of the CEFR and it focuses on expected student behaviours at levels identified (A1-A2-B1-B2-C1) for the four skills: reading, writing, listening and speaking and grammar. Focusing on the ‘can do statements’ in the GSE makes it easier for item writers to construct test items that correspond to a learning outcome or objective.

Validity of exams at BUSFL is achieved by going through several steps in internal verification:

The internal verification of the exams constructed in the Prep Unit and Academic English Unit follow all the stages above while the Modern Languages Unit, which has a limited number of instructors in every language, also conforms to standards of the TDU in terms of content and format. Exams constructed in the Modern Languages Unit all have reading, writing, listening and language use sections. Similarly, the weightings of the midterm and final exams are parallel to the ones in the Academic English Unit. Every exam constructed in the Modern Languages Unit, just like all other exams, is approved by the seal of TDU prior to duplication.

6.9. BU-SFL INVIGILATION POLICY

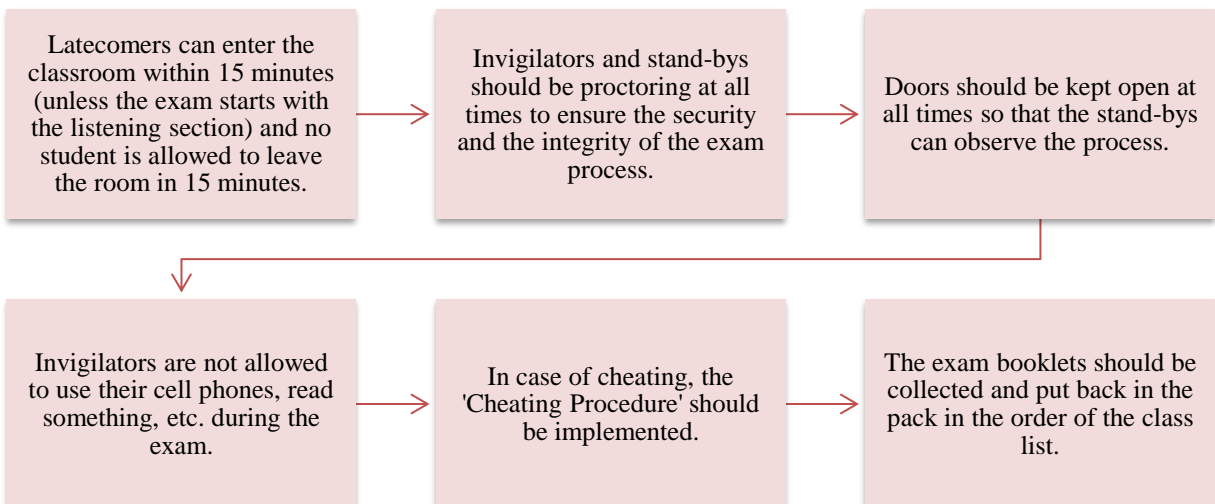

The base motive underlying the invigilation policy at BUSFL is to administer exams not only in an environment which fosters the security of the exam, but also a fair atmosphere for each student taking the exam by setting standards for every exam. To control the homogeneity of each exam venue in as much as possible there are different sets of invigilation procedures for instructors to follow. Mainly these fall into three categories: activities carried out prior to the exam, during the exam and after the exam.

6.9.1. Invigilation Procedure Prior to the Exam

See Appendix 21 for Sample Invigilation List

6.9.2. Invigilation Procedure During the Exam

(Appendix 22)

6.9.3. Invigilation Procedure After the Exam

6.10. BU-SFL GRADING POLICY

The main goal of the grading policy at the BU- SFL is to provide a reliable measure of students' progress at different programs offered. Assigning reliable scores not only enhances the objectivity of the assessment process, but also aids teaching and learning by providing feedback to instructors and students. In order to achieve objectivity in measuring students knowledge of English, detailed answer keys in addition to different sets of grading criteria are used at the BU-SFL for assessing different skills. Grading procedures for different skills fall into three categories:

1. Grading the Reading, Listening and Language Use Components of Exams: These exams consist of short answer, long answer and/or multiple choice item types. The objectivity in scoring is achieved through answer keys containing alternative answers. (See details at 11.1).
2. Grading the Writing Component of Exams: Because marking may be subjective, grading the writing component requires a checklist or a rubric so as to ensure the reliability of the score assigned. (See details at 11.2).
3. Grading the Speaking Component of Exams: Marking of the Speaking component may be subjective; therefore, in order to reduce the error component of the grade assigned, several actions are taken. These include sessions conducted for training assessors throughout the year in addition to using a detailed rubric. See details at 11.3.

6.10.1. Grading Reading, Listening and Language Use Components of Exams

A standardization meeting is held for every exam administered in a different program.

Instructors are provided with detailed answer keys which contain alternative answers in the Reading, Listening or Language Use components.

BU-SFL Academic English Unit TDU Reading Comprehension Exam Standardization and Marking Procedure

In the Academic English Unit, the reading component of the exams is mainly constructed by forming short-answer comprehension questions, vocabulary guessing questions and reference questions. Since the answers of the comprehensions are open-ended, grading requires a fair marking procedure. In order to ensure fairness in marking the exam papers, the TDU arranges a standardization meeting for the instructors. Under the supervision of the standardization leader, who is a TDU member responsible from the exam, instructors come together and go over the answer key of the exam. They discuss possible answers to any one of the comprehension questions different than the ones in the answer key, the instructors are asked their opinion; and if the answer is found to be appropriate by a majority of instructors, the alternative answer is added to the answer key by the standardization leader. The instructors assign a score for this answer.

6.10.2. Grading Writing Component of Exams

A standardization meeting is held on different days for the first and second marking by different instructors.

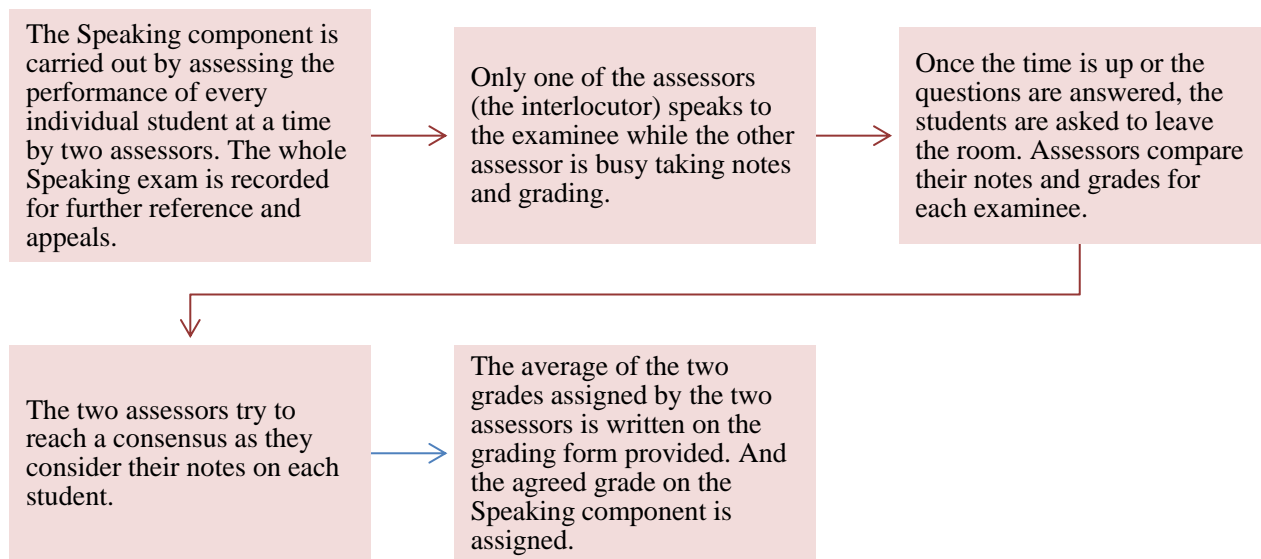

A Grading Rubric is provided for instructors to grade students' performance in the Writing component.

Once first marking is completed, a second marker grades the writing component.

The average of the two grades (first and second) is assigned as the final grade for the writing component.

* See Appendix 23, 24, 25 for detailed Writing Evaluation Procedures.

6.10.3. Grading Speaking Component of Exams

* See Appendix 26 for detailed Speaking Procedures.

Once grading ends, instructors fill out student report cards and give them to the Educational Planner so that each report card is entered manually in SFL's system.

6.11. BU-SFL CHEATING POLICY

Students at Başkent University are obliged to obey rules, procedures and warnings during exams or else disciplinary action will follow.

In case of cheating at the BU- SFL, the cheating procedure is implemented according to the approved directive (Article 5 and Article 6) of the Başkent University Senate dated February 19, 2018.

According to the directive of Başkent University, the following actions are considered as ‘cheating’:

- referring to any written material or source which is not permitted during the exam
- intentionally looking at or attempting to look at the exam paper of another student
- showing one's exam paper to another student
- any kind of verbal or written communication between students
- sharing materials including pencils, erasers, calculators etc. during the exam
- using electronic devices with a function to store and show information such as a mobile phone, i-pad or an i-watch

According to the Cheating Procedure if a student is caught cheating s/he is warned and informed that an incident report will be held. Any evidence of cheating is withheld by the invigilators and a TDU member is called in to make sure the procedure is implemented. The student caught cheating is not asked to go out of the classroom. S/he can stay until the end and complete the exam. Head of TDU is informed.

Once the exam is over, invigilators submit the incident report, the student's exam booklet, and any piece of evidence withheld to the Head of TDU or Unit Exam Coordinator. The related Unit Head is informed so that necessary action is taken.

In the following days the TDU brings the Cheating Commission together. The Cheating Commission is made up of invigilators, instructors and the related Unit Head. The commission goes over each case and directs the student caught cheating to his/her faculty if he is to be found guilty of cheating in the exam in the light of the evidence withheld and invigilators heard.

The student's faculty opens and carries out a formal investigation. If it is decided against the student then disciplinary penalties are given to the student as mentioned in the Student Discipline Regulations. Penalties may include but are not limited to warning, reprimand, and suspension for a period of one week or longer.

Course Description:

This course aims to teach general English. It is a course for students who have limited knowledge of the language. The objective of the course is to help learners to achieve overall English language proficiency of A2+ and enhance their knowledge of English. It enhances four skills – reading, listening, writing and speaking- through challenging tasks and thus enables students to become active and autonomous learners.

Objectives:

Within the framework of the learning outcomes and competences designed for the course, the objectives are as follows:

- to learn basic grammatical structures
- to gain awareness of English language and English speaking cultures
- to understand a basic level how English functions as a language

- to speak English well enough to describe, narrate, and ask/answer questions in the present and past time about basic topics
- to comprehend English with sufficient ability to grasp the main idea and supporting details in short conversations and reading texts
- to deduce meanings from context and to comprehend more complex readings
- to practise pronunciation and intonation patterns of English
- to write informal/ formal paragraphs and letters
- to learn vocabulary to such an extent as to communicate at a basic level in everyday life

Course Materials:

- Student's Book:

Eales, F. & Oakes, S. (2016). Speakout Starter Flexi (2nd Ed). Pearson Education Limited.

Eales, F. & Oakes, S. (2017). Speakout Elementary (2nd Ed). Pearson Education Limited.

-Skills book:

Beaumont, J. & Yancey, A.J. (2015). North Star Reading and Writing 1(3rd Ed). Pearson Education Limited.

-Readers:

Level 1 and Level 2

Method of Instruction:

- Face to face instruction
- Communicative approach and integration of skills

Course Policies:

Attendance/Requirements: Students are expected to attend regularly and show up on time. Students are required to attend at least %80 of classes. Each student must bring the course-book, workbook and skill-book to class in order to follow the course effectively. Using cell phones during class is strictly forbidden.

Assessment: For ALL students, the achievement base score is 70 (seventy) points out of 100 (one hundred) points in Program 1.

Student Learning Outcomes

Program 1 intends to prepare students to be able to demonstrate the following abilities:

READING

- Can identify basic factual information in very simple texts
- Can understand the general meaning of short, simple informational material and descriptions if there is visual support
- Can identify specific information in simple letters, brochures and short articles
- Can understand rules and regulations (e.g. safety) if expressed in simple language
- Can make basic inferences from simple information in a short text
- Can understand the main information from simple diagrams (e.g. graphs, bar charts)
- Can understand simple factual titles and headlines relating to common events
- Can identify specific information in a simple factual text
- Can understand short, simple personal emails and letters
- Can derive the probable meaning of simple, unknown words from short, familiar contexts
- Can make basic inferences or predictions about text content from headings, titles or headlines
- Can search the internet for specific every day or work-related information
- Can discuss and respond to the content of the text orally and in written

LISTENING

- Can understand basic personal details if given carefully and slowly
- Can follow speech which is very slow and carefully articulated, with long pauses
- Can understand simple language related to prices and quantities
- Can follow short, simple social exchanges

- Can understand the time of day when expressed to the quarter hour
- Can recognise simple formal and informal greetings
- Can extract key factual information such as prices, times and dates from short, clear, simple announcements
- Can recognise phrases and content words related to familiar topics e.g. shopping, local geography
- Can recognise when speakers agree in a conversation conducted slowly and clearly
- Can extract key factual information such as prices, times and dates from a recorded telephone message
- Can identify the main points of TV news items reporting events, accidents etc. where the visual supports the commentary
- Can derive the probable meaning of simple, unknown words from short, familiar context

SPEAKING

- Can establish basic social contacts with simple, polite greetings and farewells
- Can ask where other people are in a limited way
- Can ask and answer simple questions in areas of immediate need or on very familiar topics
- Can ask and answer question about basic plans and intentions
- Can communicate in routine tasks requiring simple, direct exchanges of information
- Can ask for the spelling of a word, or for the word to be written down
- Can use brief everyday expressions to ask for and give personal details
- Can exchange personal details (e.g. where they live, things they have
- Can give an extended description of everyday topics (e.g. people, places, experiences)
- Can give a short description of their home, family and job, given some help with vocabulary
- Can give and ask for simple directions from X to Y on foot or by public transport
- Can ask and answer simple questions about people they know in a limited way
- Can say their own age and ask someone about their age
- Can express how they are feeling using very basic fixed expressions
- Can make very basic suggestions with support
- Can express belief, opinion, agreement and disagreement politely
- Can follow speech which is very slow and carefully articulated, with long pauses
- Can ask for a drink or food in a limited way
- Can make and accept offers
- Can use simple phrases to order a meal
- Can ask and talk about very basic symptoms
- Can ask for basic advice using simple language

- Can use brief, everyday expressions to describe wants and needs, and request information
- Can describe very basic similarities or differences with support
- Can tell the time of day to the quarter hour
- Can tell a story or describe something
- Can ask very simply for repetition when they don't understand
- Can describe a person's likes and dislikes using very simple language
- Can initiate and respond to simple statements on very familiar topics
- Can describe habits and routines
- Can explain what they like or dislike about something
- Can exchange personal details (e.g. where they live, things they have)
- Can make and accept a simple apology
- Can ask and answer questions about what they do at work and in their free time
- Can explain what they like or dislike about something
- Can use a limited range of fixed expressions to describe objects, possessions, or products

Ders Tanımı:

ITA 111, genel İtalyancayı öğretmeyi amaçlayan temel düzeyde (A1) bir derstir. Bu ders, öğrencilerin, İtalyanca dil ve kelime bilgilerini edinmelerini, dört dil becerisini (okuma, dinleme, konuşma ve yazma) geliştirmelerini ve CEFR'ye uygun olarak genel İtalyanca dil yeterliliğine sahip olmalarını sağlamayı hedefler. Ayrıca gerekli sosyo-kültürel öğelerle öğrenciyi tanıştırmak, yabancı dil kullanımında büyük önem taşıyan bilgi, beceri ve özgüveni kazanabilmesi için öğrenciye rehberlik eder.

Amaçlar:

- İtalyan kültürü ve coğrafyası ile ilgili farkındalık geliştirmeye başlamak.
- İtalyancanın bir dil olarak nasıl çalıştığını temel düzeyde anlamaya başlamak.
- Tanışma ve selamlaşma cümleleri kurabilmek. Basitçe kendini tanıtabilmek.
- Telefon numarası , yaş, uyruk, hatır sorabilmek ve cevaplayabilmek.
- İtalyan alfabesini ve temel okunuş kurallarını tanımak.
- İtalyanca kelimelerin telafuzu ve tonlaması ile ilgili farkındalık geliştirmeye başlamak.
- 0-100 arası sayıları tanımak.
- Basit cümlelerle telefon konuşması yapabilmek, dinlediğinde kavrayabilmek.
- İkamet yeri ve adres sorma soruları oluşturabilmek ve bu durumlara uygun yanıtlar için ifadeler öğrenmek.
- Fiziksel tasvir cümleleri kurabilmek. Kendini veya başkasını tanıtan kısa paragraflar yazabilmek.
- Resmi dil (Formale) kullanarak sorular sorabilmek ve cevaplayabilmek.
- Temel okuma ve dinleme becerilerini geliştirmek
- Temel dilbilgisi yapılarını öğrenmek.

Ders Gereçleri:

Ders Kitabı: Nuovo Progetto Italiano 1a, Libro dello studente. Edizioni Edilingua (2013)

Alıştırma Kitabı: Nuovo Progetto Italiano 1a, Quaderno degli esercizi. Edizioni Edilingua (2013)

Ek materyaller

Öğretim Yöntemi:

Tüm dil becerileri eklektik (derleme) ve iletişimsel metotlar ile geliştirilir

Ders Politikaları:

Sınıf İçi Kurallar: Sınıf dışında İtalyan dilini duyma ve kullanma olanağınız sınırlı olabileceğinden dolayı, derslerin ana odağı iletişimdir ve sınıf içinde mümkün olduğunca hedef dil İtalyancayı konuşmaya dikkat ederiz. Bu nedenle teorik bilgilerin yanı sıra özellikle pratik çalışmalar ile öğrenci, dili aktif kullanması için teşvik edilmektedir. Öğrenciden de sınıf içinde yalnızca İtalyanca konuşması beklenir. Ek açıklamalara ihtiyaç duyarsanız ya da ders içeriği ile doğrudan ilişkili olmayan konular üzerine görüşmek isterseniz ders öncesi ve sonrasında veya ofis saatleri içerisinde ilgili Öğretim Görevlisi ile görüşebilirsiniz.

Katılım/Gereksinimler: Öğrencilerin düzenli olarak katılım göstermeleri ve zamanında derse gelmeleri beklenmektedir. Öğrencilerin derslerin en az yüzde 70'ine katılmaları gerekmektedir (toplam 12 saatten fazla derse gelmeme durumu olduğunda başarısızlığa yol açabilir). Her öğrenci dersi etkili bir şekilde takip edebilmek için ders kitabını, çalışma kitabını ve varsa ek materyallerini sınıfa getirmelidir. Ders esnasında cep telefonu ya da diğer mobil cihazlar kullanılmamalıdır.

Değerlendirme: Ara sınav, final sınavı ve 2 quiz ile performansınız değerlendirilecektir. Kopya çekilmesi durumunda ilgili yönerge gereği disiplin işlemleri başlatılır. Herhangi bir sınavı kaçırmamız durumunda onaylanmış bir sağlık raporu veya mazeretinizi kanıtlayan başka bir resmi belge sunmazsanız telafi sınavına girmeniz mümkün olmayacaktır.

Sınav Kuralları: Sınavın ilk 15 dakikası ve son 10 dakikası sınıftan dışarı çıkılmaz. Geç gelen öğrenciler sınavın ilk 15 dakikası sınava alınabilir. Geç gelen öğrenciye ek süre verilmez. Öğrenciler sınav süresince sınıftan dışarı çıkamazlar. Öğrenciler sınav süresince birbirlerinden kalem, silgi ve benzeri malzeme alışverişinde bulunamazlar. Sınıfa sınavda kullanılacak araç gereç dışında herhangi bir iletişim aracının (cep telefonu ve bilgi depolama/ gösterme özelliklerine sahip elektronik cihazlar, ders notu, kitap, vb.) getirilmesi durumunda, bunların sınav gözetmenine teslim edilmesi zorunludur. Sınav sırasında, kullanılmasına izin verilmemiş bir kaynaktan yararlanılması, bir başka öğrencinin kağıdına bakılması, öğrenciye sınav kağıdı gösterilmesi ya da öğrenciler arasında yazılı, sözlü herhangi bir bilgi alışverişi ve benzer eylemler kopya olarak değerlendirilir. Bu durumlarda öğrencinin kağıdını teslim etmesi gerekmektedir. Bunu takiben gözetmen(ler) olayın içeriğini özetleyen Sınav Disiplin Tutanağı'nı doldurur. Öğrenciler, sınav süresince sınav düzenine dair kural, talimat ve uyarılara uygun davranmakla yükümlüdürler. Aksi bir davranış durumunda haklarında disiplin hükümleri uygulanır.

Semester: FALL/ 2018-2019Exam Date: 11. 09. 2018Exam Centre: D121 (Self-Access)Exam Time: 14.00-16.30

All invigilators and stand-bys are expected to report to the exam center latest by 13:30 on the exam day and pick up their exam packs by signing up the delivery form. They then go directly to their exam rooms. After the exam, the packs should be submitted back by signing up the same form. Since both invigilators/stand-bys have the same responsibilities and both are expected to sign up, it is preferred that they report together at both instances.

Stand-bys' pack includes:

Back-up exam booklet copies & CDs
Extra optic answer sheets
Back-up exam report & seating plan
Exam procedures

Please bring a CD Player. This exam includes a listening section.

Report to the exam centre latest by 13:30-13:45 with your co-invigilator to take your pack. Count the booklets in your pack, then sign up the delivery sheet together and go directly to your assigned exam room. Get your students seated, collect all the cell phones turned-off. Have the students sign the attendance sheet and write 'ABSENT' for absent students. Don't put any other mark except than that (wait until after 15 minutes for latecomers before writing ABSENT).

Five minutes to the exam, distribute BOOKLET 1 by checking 00 and 11 distribution. It should be as follows:

booklet 00
booklet 11

booklet 11
booklet 00

booklet 00
booklet 11

Have the students fill in the necessary parts on their booklet covers and on their optic sheets and check if there are any missing pages. Check if all the students filled in their covers and optics correctly. The answers will be written on the optic sheets, the answers on the booklets will not be taken into consideration. Students should not write anything on the booklets (except for the writing section).

Optic form should be filled in as follows:

AY: Booklet code 00 or 11.

YIL: 89

KOD: Please check each student's optic sheet. They should be coding in the class code which is written on the exam pack under the sticker.

ÖĞRENCİ NO: Student number (if they don't have student numbers, leave empty)

ADI-SOYADI: Name and surname with a space in between (for students with two or more names, one is enough; if the students name and surname don't fit, write and code as much as you can)

When your classroom is ready for the exam, one of the invigilators should stand at the door to signal the stand-bys that they are ready. All classrooms start the exam together with the stand-by's signal and the exact exam timing will be determined according to that. Latecomers can be accepted only within 15 minutes and no one is allowed to leave the exam room until after 30 minutes. Latecomers will not get any extra time. Also, there will be no break between BOOKLET 1 and BOOKLET 2. If a student leaves the classroom, he/she cannot come back.

Students cannot leave the exam room in the last 10 minutes of the exam. Ensure that you are left in the exam room with at least two students. Ask a second student to stay in the room even if there are two invigilators. Ask for help from the stand-bys or Test Development Unit members if there is a problem.

Allocated time for BOOKLET 1 is 50 minutes. When the time is over, first collect BOOKLET 1 and then distribute BOOKLET 2 and the WRITING BOOKLET. BOOKLET 1 and BOOKLET 2 types must match for each student. If a student got '00' for BOOKLET 1, he/she must get '00' for BOOKLET 2 as well. That is of UTMOST IMPORTANCE.

When your classroom is ready for BOOKLET 2, one of the invigilators should stand at the door again to signal the stand-bys that they are ready. All classrooms start BOOKLET 2 together with the stand-by's signal and the exact exam timing will be determined according to that.

BOOKLET 2 starts with LISTENING SECTION. All the instructions, repetitions and the silent gaps are recorded on the CDs. Invigilators will not interfere with the CD until it says 'THIS IS THE END OF LISTENING SECTION.' Allocated time for BOOKLET 2 is 100 minutes. There is no separate optic form for BOOKLET 2. Students will continue with the same optic form.

Students are not allowed to use the restrooms during the exam.

Don't share your opinions about the exam or about the answers with your students during or after the exam.

Both invigilators should be in their assigned classrooms at all times, except in cases of an emergency. If there is an emergency, don't leave your room without informing the stand-bys; a stand-by will take on your invigilation duty.

After the listening section ends, open the doors. Keep the doors open at all times (except for the listening section) so that the stand-bys can observe the process.

Invigilators and stand-bys should be proctoring at all times. Please do not use your cell phones, read something, etc. during the exam. Stand-bys should walk around checking on the classrooms to ensure the security and the integrity of the exam process.

At the end of the exam, make sure to fill out the exam report & seating plan. Collect the exam booklets and optic sheets and put them back in the pack in the order of your class list. Separate 00 and 11 optic sheets. Extra booklets and optics should be on the top.

Both invigilators have the same responsibilities at all times.

APPENDIX 23 WRITING ASSESSMENT RUBRICBAŞKENT UNIVERSITY-ENGLISH PREP UNIT TDU*WRITING RUBRIC*ADEQUACY OF CONTENT

4	Good	- Addresses almost all prompt requirements - Very good expansion of ideas (with examples/further details where necessary) - No repetition and/or irrelevance
3	Satisfactory	- Addresses prompt requirements for the most part - Satisfactory expansion of ideas (with some examples/details where necessary) - Very little repetition and/or irrelevance

0	No achievement	- Prompt requirements are not addressed/addressed completely wrongly - No expansion of ideas

ADEQUACY OF ORGANIZATION

2	Good	- Good organization of ideas - Ideas are easy to follow and effectively linked within/across the paragraph(s) -The message is communicated in a logical way
1	Adequate	- Ideas are somehow organized (some evidence of organization) - Some evidence of link between ideas and they are somehow followed within/across the paragraph(s) -There is somehow a logic in the way the message is communicated
0	No organization	- Almost no evidence of organization - There is difficulty in following the ideas and they are almost never linked within/across the paragraph(s)

ADEQUACY OF LANGUAGE USE

3	Good	- Almost no mistakes or inappropriateness in target grammar and lexis - A good range of structures and lexis - An attempt to use high level grammar and lexis with some mistakes
2	Satisfactory	- Some mistakes in and/or inappropriate uses of target grammar and lexis - Some range of structures and lexis - Mistakes do not interfere with the message communicates
1	Poor	- Many errors in and/or inappropriate uses of target grammar and lexis - Limited range of structures and lexis - Great difficulty in understanding the message communicated
0	Not understandable	- Serious inaccuracy and/or inappropriateness in target grammar and lexis - Almost no range of structures and lexis - Full of breakdowns in communication

MECHANICAL ACCURACY

1	Good	- Almost no spelling and/or punctuation mistakes - Nothing hinders the message communicated
0,5	Adequate	- Some mistakes in spelling and/or punctuation - Only minor effects on the message communicated
0	Inaccurate	- Very low standard in spelling and/or punctuation - Major effects on the message communicated

- * If response is off-topic, score “0” (consult a TDU observer).
- * If response is partially-irrelevant, score “1” or “0” for content; grade the rest according to the criteria.
- * If 15% outside the word limits, subtract one point (-1) from overall score.
- * If response contains long stretches of language items copied from the prompts/the example/other parts of the exam, subtract one point (-1) from content.
- * While marking the writing parts, if the difference between the two markers’ scores is/are:

1 point	– take the higher score; e.g.: 1 st marker “7” ,2 nd marker “8”	= take “8”
2 points	– take the middle score; e.g.: 1 st marker “6” , 2 nd marker “8”	= take “7”
3/3+ points	– grade the paper together one more time and try to reach a conclusion, and/or consult TDU

APPENDIX 26 SPEAKING TEST FRAME

AMER-İDÖ-MTI SPEAKING TEST FRAME

WARM-UP (0:30 minute - Not marked)

(Please do not speak in Turkish whatever the reason is once the student enters the exam room.)

Interlocutor: Good morning/afternoon. Welcome. Please take a seat. What is your name and surname?

Student: ...

Interlocutor: My name is _____ and this is _____ (indicating the other assessor in the room). During the test, please speak only in English, loudly and clearly.

PART I – QUESTION AND ANSWER (2:00 minutes)

Interlocutor: O.K Now I will ask you some questions.

(Start the timer.)

(The interlocutor is to ask one question from Group 1 and one question from Group 2 below.)

PART II – PICTURE CARD (4:00 minutes – 1:00 for preparation & 2:30 – 3:00 for speaking)

Interlocutor: Thank you. Now look at the pictures on card, number (the number of the card), and read the situation under the pictures. You have 1 minute to think. Then, you will talk about the pictures and the situation. (If the student starts right away, please warn him/her at least one time: “You have time to think.”)

Interlocutor: Time is up! You can start talking about the situation.

NOTE TO INTERLOCUTOR: Each picture card has some prompts written on it. You may remind those prompts to the students if they are stuck. OR You can further prompt the student with the following questions/statements. Since each picture represents a different situation, questions should be chosen accordingly:

Why ...? Why not ...?

What about the ...?

Can you give reasons for your choice?

Interlocutor: Thank you. This is the end of the test. Can I get the picture file back, please? You can go out. Have a nice day.

(Stop the timer.)

(Please DO NOT speak/comment before the student leaves the room. Please do not answer any questions students may ask nor comment on their performance in any way.)
